East, West Both Celebrate With May Day

Iron Curtain Areas Parade Armed Might, Attack U.S. Policy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Labor's traditional May Day holiday was celebrated with rallies, speeches and parades on both sides of the Iron Curtain today as police stood guard in Berlin, Buenos Aires, Tokyo and other potential trouble spots.

With Soviet Premier Khrushchev and other top leaders watching from atop Lenin's tomb as usual, the Soviet Union staged one of the least belligerent May Day celebrations every seen in Moscow's Red Square.

The keynote speech by the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, contained only routine attacks on the United States and the usual pledges that the Soviet forces would beat off any attacker.

The military parade of troop carriers, tanks and rockets lasted only nine minutes and there was nothing new for Western military observers to see. While they rolled through Red Square before the 10,000 spectators, the television announcer recited poetry.

The facade of the historical museum, at the end of Red Square, was dominated by a banner calling for "a mighty upsurge in agriculture" instead of the usual "forward to the victory of communism." Badly lagging farm production is the Soviet Union's current No. 1 problem.

After the military parade there came the usual physical culture demonstration and march of the "spontaneous demonstrators."

Malinovsky stressed that the great task of the Soviet Union was to show "the irrefutable advantages of the Socialist system." He said that to achieve this the Soviet Union needed peace and that was the reason for the Leninist principle of peaceful coexistence.

He claimed that the Soviet Union was doing everything possible to achieve disarmament, a German peace treaty and various other things that might bring peace closer. But he charged that the ruling circles of the Western powers "and in the first place the United States" were putting obstacles in the way of achieving this.

The defense minister said the Soviet Union would do everything to prevent World War III but that under current world conditions "it is logical that the Soviet Union will be vigilant on guard and do everything for our defense."

An unusual spectator at the Red Square show was Belgium's Queen Mother Elisabeth, in Moscow for the second international Tchaikovsky music competition. It was believed the first time that royalty had attended the big Soviet Communist spectacle.

'Mean' Swan Is Blamed in Boat Fatality

CLEVELAND (AP) — A swan, described as having a mean streak attacked a boat containing five persons on a private lake in suburban Parma Monday night and caused an accident which resulted in one man drowning.

Dead was Waldemar F. Rupp, 61, owner of the Buckeye Publishing Co. Police said the 12-foot aluminum boat overturned and he tried to shove the swan away.

The other occupants, three of them women, were rescued and taken to Parma Community hospital. The women were reported to be in shock.

The boat had moved to a spot on Evergreen Lake where the swan's mate was nesting, police said. Suddenly the big bird moved toward the craft and tried to jump in.

Parma patrolman Emmett Mathews, who jumped into the water with his clothes on to help the victims, said the swan became mean after another of his mates was killed by someone two years ago. The swans, purchased by residents, have been on the lake for more than five years.

Local Lawmen Urge Caution In Accepting Repair Bids

The Circleville Police and Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today urged the public to exercise good judgment before entering into home repair contracts.

CIRCLEVILLE merchants and patrons of downtown stores have been wrestling for quite some time with the controversial issue of whether stores should close Saturday evenings.

Robert Kenworthy, owner and operator of Kenworthy's Appliance and Refrigeration Co., 126 W. Main St., decided to make an effort to uncover what the majority of his customers wanted.

During the Grand Opening of Kenworthy's new location last Friday and Saturday, the local businessman conducted a survey by means of printed forms.

A total of 664 persons completed the registration, which included the following question: Would you like for this (Circleville) to be a Saturday Night town?

OF THE total registrants, 358 answered "yes"; 94 checked "no"; and 212 didn't commit themselves.

Another question on the cards was: What time of day (Wednesday) would you prefer stores to be open?

The results: 222 prefer morning (until noon); 94 checked "no"; 15, all day and 310 didn't answer the question.

The children recently set up and operated a "cool-aid" refreshment stand. Their proceeds of $3.35 were turned over to the local Cancer Campaign Fund.

VISITORS looked twice today on entering police headquarters. Patrolmen were decked out in new white shirts.

Starting today, the shirts will be a standard part of police uniforms for the summer months. They are short-sleeved, attractive and blend well with officers' dark trousers.

Chances are they will be worn without ties during the hot weeks ahead.

Middletown Policeman Wins Round in Court

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Patrolman Coy Hall of Middletown has won his two-year fight to overturn an 11-day suspension on a charge he was insubordinate to Police Chief Joseph Blackmore. Judge Fred Cramer ruled out the insubordination charge and a penalty in Common Pleas Court Monday.

The matter grew out of Hall's refusal to obtain a doctor's certificate when he reported off duty Jan. 8, 1960, with a throat infection.

Ohio Political Drive Enters Its Final Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's 140 politicians seeking nominations for 34 state and congressional offices went into the final week of campaigning today before the May 8 primary.

Next Tuesday voters will trim the field to 68.

Most of the heavy political stomping Monday was in populous Northern Ohio.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nod, first joined other Democratic candidates at a rally in Shaker Heights and then fired back answers to nationality newspaper editors in Cleveland.

On the question of taxes, the governor said:

"They talk about a $300 million tax increase. It was $155 million in taxes and added price on liquor. Of that $65 million had to go for highways, from the two cent increase in gasoline tax. That left $90 million to try and progress in all our other programs—mental health, corrections, schools."

DiSalle flew to Washington today to accept the annual alumni award from the Student Law Association of Georgetown University, but he was expected to be back on the political trail tonight with appearances in Warren and Youngstown.

Earlier Monday, DiSalle's chief opponent, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, outlined a proposed industrial development authority which he claimed was vital to accelerate Ohio's economic growth.

Alan F. Reeves, one of 11 Democrats seeking that party's nomination for congressman-at-large, called Robert Taft Jr. the leading Republican for the nomination, the mystery man of the Ohio primary campaign.

Reeves told the Shaker Heights rally that voters will go to the polls knowing little or nothing about Taft's views.

Concerning his own candidacy, the former Western Reserve University instructor said, "I have talked with Ohioans in all 88 counties . . . but the voters still have to hear where Mr. Taft stands on many . . . important questions."

Two of the four GOP candidates for the U. S. senator nomination hammered away.

In Medina, John Marshall Briley criticized Kennedy administration's proposed tariff bill.

In Massillon, State Sen. Charles E. Frey accused Briley of ducking the critical issues posed by the League of Women Voters questionnaire.

No Clues Found In Death Case

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The state patrol's skidding team searched the Auglaize River for three hours Monday in a vain attempt to find clues in the murder of 46-year-old Mrs. Rosalie Crider.

The search took place near where Mrs. Crider of Venedocia, Van Wert County, was found shot on an Allen County road early last month.

She died about 12 hours after being found.

In another development, a Lima man with a record of women-beatings was cleared of any involvement in the crime by a polygraph test. He was given the test after an alibi he had given police proved to be false.

Marion Youth Brawl Ends in Fatal Stabbing

MARION, Ohio (AP) — A 16-year-old Marion youth was being held for investigation in the fatal stabbing of another 16-year-old in a teen-age street fight here.

Killed was Frank McGary of Marion. Police said the fight broke out in an alley Monday and when they arrived they found McGary's body.

Police Chief Justin Cornely said police have not found the weapon, but believe it to be a knife. The name of the youth being held was not released.

Winds Rip Northwest Ohio; 8 Killed in Midwest Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winds of tornadic force ripped parts of the Midwest Monday, leaving at least eight persons dead, up to 100 injured and millions of dollars in damaged property.

Warnings of severe storms and possible tornadoes were up over most of Ohio Monday evening. The high winds and heavy rains came but the only area to report any serious damage was Lima.

There, where some said they saw a funnel-shaped cloud, a 200-foot concrete-block wall of a factory was caved in, injuring six men. Three were hospitalized.

Several other plants in the Allen County seat also suffered damage, but none reported any injuries.

The wall collapsed at the Flair Homes, Inc., plant—a firm which makes prefabricated houses—just after the wind ripped the metal roof from the 200 - by-80-foot building.

A section of a smoke stack at the Superior Coach Corp. was ripped off by the wind and it crashed through the roof of the plant. No one was in the area at the time.

Another Lima firm, Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton, which manufactures heavy road equipment, had windows and a big sky-light broken.

The wind also ripped the roof from a fire department hose-tower.

Smuggling Ring Is Nabbed on British Ship

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. customs agents and British authorities investigated today an international smuggling ring responsible for millions of dollars worth of narcotics seized aboard the British cruiser HMS Belfast.

Disclosure of the seizure—estimated of its value ranged from $2 million to $6 million—was made Monday by Frank Long, chief U. S. customs agent.

The attempt to smuggle 134 pounds of heroin and 26 pounds of opium into San Francisco was part "of a huge operation by an international smuggling ring," Long said.

The Belfast docked here Saturday on a goodwill visit.

British consulate and Royal Navy spokesmen announced the arrest of two Chinese crewmen in possession of the narcotics, Petty Officer Ah Lee Wong, 35, and Kan Ping Kwok, 27, civilian canteen helper, both of Hong Kong.

Some $70,000 worth of undeclared jade and diamonds turned up in sugar canisters. The gems were seized and 16 other crewmen were restricted to the ship in that connection. Importation of the gems into American waters constitutes no violation of customs unless an attempt is made to land.

Long indicated prosecution is a matter for the British since none of the contraband was landed in the United States and it was seized by the ship's officers on the high seas.

Briton Opposed To High A-Test

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Sir Bernard Lovell, head of Britain's radio-astronomy station at Jodrell Bank, urged the United States today to abandon plans for a nuclear blast 500 miles above the earth.

The blast is expected to blow a huge hole in a radiation belt that girdles the earth, and to interfere with radio communications in the Pacific.

Lovell told a newsman he was appalled at the prospective outcome of the high-altitude explosion.

"The operators of this project should be restrained by all possible means from this presumption of moral right to interfere with the environment of the earth," he said.

er, and the skipping roof broke store windows, smashed an automobile knocked down a chimney and television aerial before it came to rest.

Swamping rains accompanied the high winds, estimated in excess of 60 miles per hour.

Elsewhere in the northwestern corner of the state, two barns on the Van Wert County fairgrounds were de-roofed. The debris landed among children but none were hurt.

At Findlay and Bowling Green torrential rain and winds of 60 to 70 miles per hour bowled over trees, utility poles and tv aerials.

At Toledo 66 m.p.h. winds were recorded and electric power and telephone lines were knocked out (Continued on Page 2)

County-Wide Vote On Zoning Aired

The possibility of a county-wide vote on planning and zoning regulations in all townships was brought before the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Present to discuss the proposal with the Commission were Russell Palm, Glen Hay, William Richards and T. M. Glick. The matter was brought up about a year ago, although no action was taken.

It was pointed out that four townships in the county already have zoning regulations. They were listed as Scioto, Madison, Walnut and Harrison.

The visiting delegates expressed some concern that a countywide vote on the issue might kill the zoning regulations already in effect in the four townships. In view of this, they said they currently are seeking more information and study procedures on the matter at present.

BOTH the Commissioners and the committee members discussed various weaknesses of present regulations, especially building code requirements for new construction. They also cited the need for improved rules enforcement.

River Is Dragged In Hunt for Body

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Officials planned to continue dragging the Mad River along Ohio 235 today for the body of a man believed to have drowned in a traffic accident.

The highway patrol said a convertible traveling on the highway adjacent to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Greene County Monday night tore down a guard rail, jumped the river bank and landed upright in water up to the windows. No body was in the car and witnesses saw no one jump from the car, investigators said. However, the windshield was broken.

The patrol said the owner of the car loaned it to a friend Monday night. Neither was identified.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal crop insurance officials here have set the closing date of May 18 for accepting applications under its 1962 insurance program of corn and soybeans.

New Orleans Segregationists Ship Out More Negro Groups

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Some 20 Louisiana Negroes were en route to Los Angeles today, the first large group to take advantage of the segregationist Citizens Council's offer of free one-way transportation.

Their train, dubbed "Freedom Train West" by New Orleans Council director George L. Singelmann, was scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Another group of Negroes is en route by bus to New York. It is scheduled to arrive at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The group heading for Los Angeles includes Peola Denham's family of 12 from Baton Rouge, La. The children range from 17 years to nine months.

"I don't have any promise of work but I expect things to be better in Los Angeles," Denham said.

Morris expressed the county fathers' interest in the plan, but explained that the plan probably would entail a large expense for completion.

It was agreed that another meeting will be set up later in May. Morris said Circleville officials would be invited to attend the session.

2 U.S. GIs Freed from Vietnam Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Two U.S. Army enlisted men captured April 8 by Communist guerrillas were recovered today by South Vietnamese government forces, "tired but otherwise in good health," U.S. officials reported.

The two men, Sgt. 1. C. Francis Quinn, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom, of St. Joseph, Mo., were rescued near the coastal town of Da Nang, about 360 miles north of Saigon.

The spot where they were rescued was not far from the site of the engagement in which the Viet Cong captured them and killed two other American soldiers.

Vietnamese authorities did not disclose whether the two were freed in a military operation or turned loose by their Viet Cong captors.

A U.S. helicopter took them to a U.S. Army special forces camp near Da Nang.

Quinn and Groom were captured in a Viet Cong attack in which Staff Sgt. Wayne E. March and of Plattsmouth, Neb., and Spec. 5 James Gabriel of Honolulu were killed.

Alabama Polls Open Today For Democrats

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabamians, perhaps in record numbers, will cast ballots in a Democratic primary today for a governor, one U.S. senator, and a host of other officials.

Voters also will take the first step in a unique plan to eliminate one of the state's nine congressmen—a cut made necessary by population changes.

Other officers to be nominated range from lieutenant governor to legislators and scores of lesser officials.

Voters also will elect a new state Democratic Executive Committee and settle the fate of eight constitutional amendments.

Keen interest in local and state races may attract a record number of voters. The record is 618,462 votes cast in the 1958 gubernatorial primary election.

Racial problems and the need for more money for schools key-noted the governor's race. All candidates made strong pledges to maintain segregation and to find new revenue for public schools.

The present governor, John Patterson, is prohibited by law from seeking re-election.

The seven candidates for governor, in alphabetical order, are: Birmingham Police Commissioner Eugene Connor; state Sen. Ryan Degraffier; former Gov. James E. Folsom, who is seeking an unprecedented third term; Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion; Bruce Henderson; Wayne Bodie Jennings; and former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace.

Former Mental Patient Taken Into Custody

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Nine-year-old Suda Kae Carlisle of suburban Kettering, kidnaped late Monday by a man police described as a former mental patient, was found safe and unharmed today at Lewisburg, 25 miles northwest of here in Preble County.

Her alleged kidnaper, 33-year-old Charles L. Eyer, also was taken into custody and is being returned here along with the girl for questioning.

Chief of Police Joe Tucker of Lewisburg said Eyer approached him while he was directing traffic this morning, and said he could take the chief to a cousin's home where he had left the girl. Chief Tucker said he went to a house a mile and a half west of Lewisburg on the Lewisburg-Western Road where he found the child.

The chief said the girl told him she had not been molested. He added that Eyer appeared to have been under the effect of some drug, saying that the man had asked him for a "pill." He handcuffed Eyer and took him to the police station to await Police Chief John Shryock of Kettering.

Meanwhile, the little girl had her breakfast at the police station. Chief Shryock said that Eyer had a police record and that he had served time for burglary and robbery. He gave this account of the kidnapping in Kettering:

Eyer had been working in the neighborhood of the girl's home in Kettering about 4:30 p.m. Monday, and had enticed the girl into his pickup truck. The chief said Eyer's wife also was in the truck when it left the scene.

Mrs. Eyer was arrested at her home early Tuesday. She told officers they had gone to their home and Eyer left with the girl about 7 p.m. in a borrowed car.

During the preliminary questioning she did not tell officers why her husband took the child.

A statewide alert had been issued for Eyer, and for a time police said they had feared for the girl's safety. Highway patrolmen had been looking for the green Buick sedan Eyer had borrowed from a friend, and most central Ohio highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies were taking part in the search when the word came that the girl had been found.

The police report also disclosed that attempts have been made to buy paint, probably with intentions of weakening it for spraying. Officers said most of the purchases have been refused by local firms.

City authorities said so far no laws have been broken concerning the asphalt and paint purchases. However, they urged citizens to be aware of unknown men soliciting for house repair jobs.

Each spring communities in this area are flooded with unknown and unreliable parties seeking contracts for repair of homes. Officers said they hope to keep the practice at a minimum this year.

Winds Rip Northwest Ohio; 8 Killed in Midwest Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winds of tornadic force ripped parts of the Midwest Monday, leaving at least eight persons dead, up to 100 injured and millions of dollars in damaged property.

Warnings of severe storms and possible tornadoes were up over most of Ohio Monday evening. The high winds and heavy rains came but the only area to report any serious damage was Lima.

There, where some said they saw a funnel-shaped cloud, a 200-foot concrete-block wall of a factory was caved in, injuring six men. Three were hospitalized. Several other plants in the Allen County seat also suffered damage, but none reported any injuries.

The wall collapsed at the Clair Homes, Inc., plant—a firm which makes prefabricated houses—just after the wind ripped the metal roof from the 200 - by-80-foot building.

Scores of workmen were in the building.

A section of a smoke stack at the Superior Coach Corp. was ripped off by the wind and it crashed through the roof of the plant. No one was in the area at the time.

Another Lima firm, Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton, which manufactures heavy road equipment, had windows and a big sky-light broken.

The wind also ripped the roof from a fire department hose-tower.

Smuggling Ring Is Nabbed on British Ship

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. customs agents and British authorities investigated today an international smuggling ring responsible for millions of dollars worth of narcotics seized aboard the British cruiser HMS Belfast.

Disclosure of the seizure—estimated at its value ranged from $2 million to $6 million—was made Monday by Frank Long, chief U.S. customs agent.

The attempt to smuggle 13½ pounds of heroin and 26 pounds of opium into San Francisco was part "of a huge operation by an international smuggling ring," Long said.

The Belfast docked here Saturday on a goodwill visit.

British consulate and Royal Navy spokesmen announced the arrest of two Chinese crewmen in possession of the narcotics, Petty Officer Ah Lee Wong, 35, and Kan Ping Kwok, 27, civilian canteen helper, both of Hong Kong.

Some $70,000 worth of undeclared jade and diamonds turned up in sugar canisters. The gems were seized and 16 other crewmen were restricted to the ship in that connection. Importation of the gems into American waters constitutes no violation of customs unless an attempt is made to land.

Long indicated prosecution is a matter for the British since none of the contraband was landed in the United States and it was seized by the ship's officers on the high seas.

Another development, a Lima man with a record of women-beatings was cleared of any involvement in the crime by a polygraph test. He was given the test after an alibi he had given police proved to be false.

THE BLAST is expected to blow a huge hole in a radiation belt that girdles the earth, and to interfere with radio communications in the Pacific.

County-Wide Vote On Zoning Aired

The possibility of a county-wide vote on planning and zoning regulations in all townships was brought before the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Present to discuss the proposal with the Commission were Russell Palm, Glen Hay, William Richards and T. M. Glick. The matter was brought up about a year ago, although no action was taken.

It was pointed out that four townships in the county already have zoning regulations. They were listed as Scioto, Madison, Walnut and Harrison.

The visiting delegates expressed some concern that a countywide vote on the issue might kill the zoning regulations already in effect in the four townships. In view of this, they said they currently are seeking more information and study procedures on the matter at present.

BOTH the Commissioners and the committee members discussed various weaknesses of present regulations, especially building code requirements for new construction. They also cited the need for improved rules enforcement.

River Is Dragged In Hunt for Body

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Officials planned to continue dragging the Mad River along Ohio 235 today for the body of a man believed to have drowned in a traffic accident.

The highway patrol said a convertible traveling on the highway adjacent to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Greene County Monday night tore down a guard rail, jumped the river bank and landed upright in water up to the windows. No body was in the car and witnesses saw no one jump from the car, investigators said. However, the windshield was broken.

The patrol said the owner of the car loaned it to a friend Monday night. Neither was identified.

Singelmann saw the group off after depositing a check for $612 with ticket seller John Keretz. Singelmann gave each Negro $5 for expenses but gave Denham $100—"because he has such a big family."

There was some confusion as to how many Negroes actually went on the bus to New York.

Singelmann said there were 12 bus driver Eddie Sauer said 10. Newsman interviewed four and saw Singelmann hand tickets to three others. One reporter got on the bus and counted only six.

Singelmann had said earlier that 100 Negroes would leave during the day. He said some were frightened by pressure from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality.

Two other Negroes left early Monday on a bus for Chicago. Prior to Monday, Singelmann had claimed that 116 Negroes had left on the rides.

Former Mental Patient Taken Into Custody

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Nine-year-old Suda Kae Carlisle of suburban Kettering, kidnapped late Monday by a man police described as a former mental patient, was found safe and unharmed today at Lewisburg, 25 miles northwest of here in Preble County.

Her alleged kidnaper, 33-year-old Charles L. Eyler, also was taken into custody and is being returned here along with the girl for questioning.

Chief of Police Joe Tucker of Lewisburg said Eyler approached him while he was directing traffic this morning, and said he could take the child to a cousin's home where he had left the girl.

Chief Tucker said he went to a house a mile and a half west of Lewisburg on the Lewisburg-Western Road where he found the child.

The chief said the girl told him she had not been molested. He added that Eyler appeared to have been under the effect of some drug, saying that the man had asked him for a "pill." He handcuffed Eyler and took him to the police station to await Police Chief John Shryock of Kettering.

Meanwhile, the little girl had her breakfast at the police station. Chief Shryock said that Eyler had a police record and that he had served time for burglary and robbery. He gave this account of the kidnapping in Kettering:

Eyler had been working in the neighborhood of the girl's home in Kettering about 4:30 p.m. Monday, and had enticed the girl into his pickup truck. The chief said Eyler's wife also was in the truck when it left the scene.

Mrs. Eyler was arrested at her home Tuesday. She told officers they had gone to their home and Eyler left with the girl about 7 p.m. in a borrowed car.

During the preliminary questioning she did not tell officers why her husband took the child.

A statewide alert had been issued for Eyler, and for a time police said they had feared for the girl's safety. Highway patrolmen had been looking for the green Buick sedan Eyler had borrowed from a friend, and most central Ohio highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies were taking part in the search when the word came that the girl had been found.

Alabama Polls Open Today For Democrats

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's, perhaps in record numbers, will cast ballots in a Democratic primary today for a governor, one U.S. senator, and a host of other officials.

Voters also will take the first step in a unique plan to eliminate one of the state's nine congressmen—a cut made necessary by population changes.

Other officers to be nominated range from lieutenant governor to legislators and scores of lesser officials.

Voters also will elect a new state Democratic Executive Committee and settle the fate of eight constitutional amendments.

Keen interest in local and state races may attract a record number of voters. The record is 618,462 votes cast in the 1958 gubernatorial primary election.

Racial problems and the need for more money for schools keynoted the governor's race. All candidates made strong pledges to maintain segregation and to find new revenue for public schools.

The present governor, John Patterson, is prohibited by law from seeking re-election.

The seven candidates for governor, in alphabetical order, are: Birmingham Police Commissioner Eugene Connor; state Sen. Ryan Degraffened; former Gov. James E. Folsom, who is seeking an unprecedented third term; Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion; Bruce Henderson; Wayne Bodie Jennings; and former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace.

Two Circleville Students Attend Model Legislature

Two delegates from the Circleville High School Hi-Y Club, Jim Wellington and William Clifton, attended the 11th Annual YMCA Model Legislature which convened in the State Capitol Building during the weekend Sunday, April 29.

The Model Legislature has been termed a highly compact and efficient training session in legislative government.

More than 400 young men and women from Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y Clubs throughout Ohio acted as members of the House and Senate, performing their own legislation in the chambers of the actual State senators and representatives.

During the three-day session at the Capitol, the Model Legislature Delegates took committee and floor action on 147 bills and 16 resolutions drafted by the delegates before going to Columbus. The Circleville delegates introduced a bill granting state academic scholarships to worthy students who are underprivileged.

Local Student To Be Initiated

William M. Harral, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harral, Route 1, has been elected to Bucket and Dipper, junior men's honorary organization at Ohio State University.

Harral is one of 16 students honored who will be initiated today in campus ceremonies scheduled as part of the university's May Week activities.

in several parts of Lucas County. There also were reports of several house trailers rolled over, but again no one was injured.

The chain of destruction started in eastern Missouri with a series of tornado alerts. Rain and powerful winds then whipped into St. Louis and adjoining communities, leaving downed utility lines, homes damaged, trees uprooted and scores of injured.

The storm moved into southern Illinois, hitting a dozen small communities. Damaged were homes, utility lines, farm property and public property.

Before noon, the storm hit Springfield, Ill., where one witness said it became as dark as midnight.

John Cavitt, principal of McClelland Grade School, saw the approaching storm and ordered the children outside the building. A section of the school crashed down two floors into the basement shortly afterward. Four hours later searchers found the body of a 12-year-old student.

The storm raced to Rantoul, Ill., where scores of trailers were damaged and roofs torn away from homes. It struck a supermarket, where a section of roof collapsed, killing two persons. Three others were injured.

Scores of other injured were reported at nearby Chamute Air Force Base. Damage at Rantoul was estimated at more than $1 million.

Whipping through a dozen other Illinois communities, the storm felled power lines, trees and homes. At Pontiac, Ill., a chimney collapsed and killed one man.

The destructive winds moved into the Chicago area within two hours, reaching a velocity of 105 m.p.h. at Joliet and nearly 70 m.p.h. in parts of Chicago. A similar pattern of property damage lay behind, as the storm moved eastward into Indiana.

Racing through Logansport, Kokomo, South Bend and Kentland, the storm bowled over cars, trucks, trees, and utility lines. A man was killed in Frankfort when a wall under construction collapsed on him. Nearly 50 persons were injured by debris routed by 70 m.p.h. winds at South Bend.

Court Processes

Traffic Cases

Circleville Municipal Court today collected six fines and two bonds were forfeited to the court by traffic offenders.

Bonds forfeited were: Franklin L. Hughes, Columbus; and Alfred Smith, 37, Detroit, Mich., both forfeited $19 bonds for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Motorists fined included: Crystal H. Clark, 66, Urbana; and Foster G. Penn, 53, Route 1, Lockbourne both were fined $15 and costs for failing to observe stop signs.

William D. Hamm, 28, of 160 Walnut Creek Pike, and Charles E. Willis, 33, Lockbourne Air Force Base, both were fined $20 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Barbara Jane Cummins, 34, Route 2, Ashville; $15 and costs for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Bonnie Mae Wirt, 19, Mansfield, $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

All violators were arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

The outer walls of the state Capitol at Frankfort, Ky., are ornamented with 70 Ionic columns, all carved from single blocks of stone.

Jurors Deny $50,000 in Damages Suit

A $50,000 damages suit ended today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court as the jury returned with the verdict in favor of the defense.

The unanimous verdict, rendered by a 13-member jury, denied Mrs. Delores Allagrace, Lucasville, the claim against Robert F. Sheets Jr., Newark, following 3½ days of testimony.

Mrs. Allagrace was seeking the money for personal injuries that resulted in a two-car crash in 1961 at the intersection of Routes 316 and 23, at South Bloomfield.

Judge William Ammer, presiding, charged the jury for more than an hour today and after about 45 minutes of deliberation the jurors returned to the courtroom with their verdict.

JURORS felt that Mrs. Allagrace's negligence contributed to the accident and therefore favored the plaintiff.

Walter Seimer, a Columbus attorney, represented Sheets in the court action.

Mrs. Allagrace was represented by Harry Margulis, an Ashville attorney.

Business Briefs

Sixty-four high school graduates will enter college this fall under the Kroger scholarship program for 1962, it was announced by Harold P. Templeton, vice president of the Columbus Division of The Kroger Co.

The $250 scholarships are offered to first-year students in agriculture and home economics at land-grant colleges in midwestern and southern states where there are Kroger stores, and in California and Florida where Kroger produce buying offices are located.

Selection of winners will be made by the scholarship committee at each college on the basis of scholastic standing during high school and leadership qualities demonstrated in school, church or youth groups. Financial need may also be considered. Application should be made directly to the school.

Former Resident

Is Put on Probation

A former Circleville resident, secretly indicted by the April session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury, was placed on probation today by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Gayle Brink, Columbus, received a three-year probationary period today for issuing a check with insufficient funds.

Two Circleville Students Attend Model Legislature

Two delegates from the Circleville High School Hi-Y Club, Jim Wellington and William Clifton, attended the 11th Annual YMCA Model Legislature which convened in the State Capitol Building during the weekend Sunday, April 29.

The Model Legislature has been termed a highly compact and efficient training session in legislative government.

More than 400 young men and women from Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y Clubs throughout Ohio acted as members of the House and Senate, performing their own legislation in the chambers of the actual State senators and representatives.

During the three-day session at the Capitol, the Model Legislature delegates took committee and floor action on 147 bills and 16 resolutions drafted by the delegates before going to Columbus. The Circleville delegates introduced a bill granting state academic scholarships to worthy students who are underprivileged.

Local Student

To Be Initiated

William M. Harral, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harral, Route 1, has been elected to Bucket and Dipper, junior men's honorary organization at Ohio State University.

Harral is one of 16 students honored who will be initiated today in campus ceremonies scheduled as part of the university's May Week activities.

PICK A DODGE!

BIG DODGE CUSTOM 880—This Dodge is custom-made for the big car man. It's big, all right. And packed with luxury. Almost 18 feet long. Chair-high seats. A big ride on a long 122" wheelbase. Big power from a mighty 361 cu. in. V8. The Custom 880 is big in everything but price. Without doubt, the biggest bargain on four wheels.

NEW SIZE DODGE DART—Sized right in the middle of the big and little. Two feet shorter than America's longest car; two feet bigger than the smallest. You get family-size room in an agile, parkable car. The most powerful standard 6 in the business; the hottest standard V8 near its price. Like every Dodge, Dart offers Torsion-Aire ride, rustproofing, 32,000 miles between grease jobs.

COMPACT DODGE LANCER GT—If you want a compact that does more than save gas, Lancer is your answer. Car Life calls it America's best handling compact. It's one of the hottest, too. Lancer GT, a snazzy bucket seat job, is America's first Sports-Compact. Try it at your Dodge Dealer.

U.S. Livestock Exports Get More Difficult

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that U.S. exporters are finding it increasingly difficult to maintain exports of livestock and meat products to the European Common Market countries.

The six market countries—West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—have been adjusting their tariff and other trade regulations since the first of the year to carry out a common policy of eliminating internal trade barriers and giving their farmers greater protection from external imports.

While lowering the rates between the individual countries, the common market has been raising duties on imports from third countries, including the United States.

"Generally, the proposed common external duties on U. S. meat products shipped to the six countries are higher than the rates previously in effect," a department report said.

"Also, as there has been a reduction in the internal tariffs between member countries, U. S. exporters are finding it increasingly difficult to maintain exports to the European common market."

WASHINGTON (AP)—World wheat production may be about the same this year as last, the Agriculture Department reports.

The outlook was described as particularly favorable in Asia, Africa and parts of Europe. The U.S. crop is expected to be smaller, reflecting acreage reductions under a government program.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans continue to increase their consumption of peanuts.

An Agriculture Department report shows that shelled peanuts used in edible products between last Aug. 1 and April 1 totaled 559 million pounds, or 30 million pounds more than the record high for the like period a year earlier. Most of this increase was in use for peanut butter.

$54.8 Million Medical Development Planned

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for a $54.8 million development program for University Medical Center were announced jointly Sunday by University Hospitals and Western Reserve University.

A joint trustee committee said work probably will start next spring, with completion of all projects hoped for within eight years.

Plans call for construction projects estimated to cost $44.8 million and establishment of a $10 million facility endowment fund to maintain and operate the proposed center.

Top Jurists Urge Use of Attorneys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three justices of the Supreme Court said Monday it is now time to require that defense counsel be provided for anyone put on trial in a state court on criminal offense charge.

The view, if ever backed by a majority of the Supreme Court, would overturn a ruling of 20 years ago that lets state judges use discretion as to whether defense counsel should be provided. The call for a change was made by Justice Black, with support from Chief Justice Warren and Justice Douglas, in connection with a 7-0 court decision that overturned the incest conviction of Willard Carnley in Florida. Carnley's appeal described him as an illiterate who was put on trial without being given assistance of a lawyer. He was sentenced to 6 months to 20 years.

Clergymen Guests at Kiwanis Meet

Local clergymen were special guests of the Kiwanis Club at their meeting Monday night.

Guest speaker for this "Clergy Appreciation Night" was Professor Homer R. Cotterman of Capital University. He chose as his topic, "Memories," and told of his past experiences, both humorous, spiritual, business and casual, from his college days to the present.

Prof. Cotterman compared our free way of life with Communism, our faith with that of the pagan, and sprinkled his talk with humorous events and jokes to furnish Kiwanis members and their clergymen guests an enjoyable evening.

Purpose of the program was to recognize local ministers for the work they are doing to better our citizenry and our community.

Stanley Spring, chairman of the Support of Churches Committee, invited the guests to feel free to advise the committee members of ways in which the Kiwanis Club can help to support all churches in the community. Other members of this committee are Wallace Higgins, Dr. W. Lloyd Sprouse, H. K. Lanman, David Fullen and Paul White.

On top of that, Cavare said, they drove away with the loot in his automobile.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ever since President Kennedy got mad at the steel industry and made it call off a price increase, he's been telling business he's not mad at it.

And maybe he isn't. His shake-hands - and - let-by-gones - be-bygone approach is even considered "conciliatory" by Richard Wagner, outgoing president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

But there's a difference between being friendly and turning soft or backing up.

Kennedy has given no assurance to labor or business—if they try to push up wages or prices—that he won't use a club again. He has left them guessing, which seems to be precisely what he wants to do.

This is going to make the weeks ahead acutely interesting. Labor-management settlements are coming up in various industries, such as aluminum, rails, aircraft and missiles.

Kennedy's main theme in talking pleasantly to and about business—labor hasn't created a crisis for him yet—is that government, business and labor must get along and all have a responsibility for preventing inflation and keeping the economy even.

Beyond that he hasn't gone. He put it this way to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Monday: "I have been impressed that all the segments, including the national government, must operate responsibly in terms of each other, or the balance which sustains the general welfare will be lost."

He added a sentence which can be interpreted as a warning, just in case once again he has to throw the influence of his office against some action of labor or business.

"We have many burdens in Washington—we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products."

He left unsaid what power he might try to use—other than the denunciation, persuasion and threat of antitrust action he used in steel—if business again tries to puncture the inflation rim—or if labor tries.

There's no peacetime law giving him authority to hold down prices or wages. But, while many in business resent his intrusion in the steel case, no one is publicly talking of trying to test him or frustrate him.

The friendly attitude of the post-steel Kennedy toward business in general is the same attitude he has continually employed as a politician in a broad field of dealing with people when, apparently, he feels he has nothing to gain by showing anger.

For example, he has suffered a number of frustrations in Congress, particularly from some of his own Southern Democrats. He could tear into his opposition on any given issue on which he has been blocked.

But there are many pieces of legislation he wants passed. And men who work against him today for some special reason of their own will be working for him tomorrow on something else if he doesn't antagonize them.

You'll notice that Kennedy has done very little antagonizing since he took office. It's not that he's not capable of anger. He showed he was in the steel case.

In short: he's a cool politician who doesn't seem to get angry unless it's useful.

DEHYDRATED STEAK — Pfc. Forrest E. Picknell, 19, Tilton, N.H., apparently relates what he's eating at Fort Knox, Ky. It is dehydrated steak, served to 29,000 troops. In a new process, the meat needs no cold storage and can be kept indefinitely. This is the first U.S. Army test of it.

Can You Remember When —

NEW YORK (AP) — Your golden years are showing if you can remember when:

A father didn't have to work his son's way through college. The boy did most of it himself.

The only sure way to find out the exact time was to go down to the depot when the evening train came in and ask the conductor.

The best biscuits ever made were cooked on a coal stove.

One of the chores every motor car owner hated was buttoning up the isinglass curtains on his auto during a frigid spell. There was always a crack that let the wind in wherever you sat.

In winter you didn't need a thermometer to know the temperature. You could always tell how cold it was by how far the frozen cream stuck up out of the bottle the milkman left at the door.

The biggest juvenile hero was the kid who could race downhill on his bike without holding on to the handlebars.

You could tell how poor a city neighborhood was by counting the number of pawnshops.

The prize possession of every girl in the land under 20 was a cedar-lined hope chest in which she collected linens for her future home.

The only salad in most homes, year in and year out, was cole slaw.

Most Roman Catholic families had only two dinner choices on Friday night—canned salmon loaf or macaroni and cheese.

The greatest ordeal a small boy faced was to be ordered by his mother to go out and cut a switch off the peach tree himself — when he knew it would be used to give him a whipping.

Vitamins came in foods — not bottles.

You could always tell a low-class saloon by the fact that it never kept its brass cuspidors brightly polished.

An old maid was any woman over 30 who lived by herself and kept a cat.

The biggest tomboy in grammar school teased her male playmates by snatching off their caps and hiding them in the knees of her bloomers.

The greatest anguish on earth was to stub your toe on a rock while running barefoot in summer.

A man who bought a suit with only one pair of pants was regarded either as a spendthrift or a showoff.

The girl whose front porch was adjacent to a bright street light usually got married later than girls who spooned on darker porches farther down the block.

Children were warned that if they would get appendicitis, or they swallowed watermelon seeds vines would grow out of their ears.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Gee, Mom, you're the greatest."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's pains to assure industrialists he isn't antibusiness seems sure to become an uphill task.

That is because of government's expanding role in the monitoring of business decisions—whether on wages or prices or profits. It has been growing for some time but took a big step forward in the administration's pressure to get steel companies to rescind their price increase.

A large portion of businessmen think that anyone championing further invasion of what they regard as their right to make their own decisions is bound to be anti-business, no matter what he may say about acting only in the public interest.

And when the government's policy involves labor, as in campaigns against inflationary wage increases or labor practices, the President may have a hard time with many union leaders.

The turmoil was dramatized by President Kennedy's appearance before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. That group naturally stands for industry's traditional rights. The President appeared as a champion of a New Industrial Frontier.

But behind all the current furor, some economists in and out of business circles see a new trend emerging—or at least solidifying.

They say the public interest, whatever that is interpreted to mean from time to time, is likely to play an ever larger role. They see the problem for business as one of keeping such intervention in bounds, rather than trying to reverse it.

Politics plays a role, they concede. But they argue that regardless of party, government's role is changing from that it played in the early postwar years, and even through the 1950s.

And the change is tied in with the way you as a consumer acted then and act now.

In the earlier years, labor and management could slug it out, raise wages and then hike prices. You paid the higher prices because your postwar demand for goods was great—and you tried to counter the higher prices by hitting the boss for a raise.

But now many sectors of industry have more capacity to produce than your demand for goods can keep busy. Foreign production has increased at even a faster rate—and if you don't like American prices you often have a chance to buy foreign goods for less.

That's why the wage-price spiral doesn't work so well these days, many economists point out. The businessman's reply to this argument is that supply and demand will set the prices if government keeps hands off, and that in any case it's better for labor and management to fight it out than for the federal government to set up any kind of price and wage controls, however informal.

Labor's reply to the public interest argument is that its wage demands are within reason and needn't mean higher prices if management isn't too greedy for profits.

It's going to be quite a fight—and neither the President nor the U.S. Chamber of Commerce can be sure of victory on the basis of today's skirmish.

The steelmaking furnaces in the United States poured 99,281,601 tons of ingots and steel for castings during 1960. This was the sixth highest annual output in history, according to a report of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FOR HIS INFORMATIVE book, "Actors Talk About Acting," Author Lewis Funke asked top-star Paul Muni what he thought of the "Method School" of acting. "I have my own method," replied Muni. "It's something like the method my mother used to make apple pie. A friend told mama one day, 'Your apple pie is out of this world. Break down and tell me the recipe.' Mama thought for a minute, then replied, 'Well, I wash my hands, comb my hair, put on a clean apron—and then I make apple pie.'"

According to the always-reliable Jack Lemmon, a lobster strolled into a restaurant and sat down at a table by the window. "What would you like, sir?" asked a waiter, and the lobster answered, "A little mayonnaise."

Rueful meditation from D. E. Twigg:

And that he did... I sold my car
So I could pay his bill.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.
Q: Do sulfa drugs and antibiotics increase the need for vitamins?

A: No — but fever does! The higher your fever, the more food you burn — and the more B and C vitamins you need!

With usual germs dead, yeast fungus runs wild and may mimic vitamin lack.

Q: Can vitamin E cure brown spots on the back of my hands?

A: No. Years of sun and rain, wind and dust — not vitamin deficiency — bring out this brownish color. You can't roll back the calendar.

Cake make-up can cover over any unsightly discolorations.

Q: Can good nutrition prevent infection?

A: No — but it helps. Consider vitamin A. Without it, neither tears nor skin oils flow. Dry skin and eyes crack open inviting in all kinds of germs.

Still, well-fed doctors and nurses, working in epidemics, often catch the contagious disease. Polio used to paralyze mainly well-nourished victims.

On the other hand, ill-housed, ill-fed babies caught polio so early, mothers' antibodies still protected them from paralysis.

Q: Do lipotropic compounds ruin vitamin A?

A: No — you eat protein containing many lipotropic chemicals. They carry away excess fat and prevent fatty degeneration in a diseased liver. They don't shrink normal fatty stores of vitamin A. Polar bears eat lipotropic chemicals, too, yet polar bear liver contains enough vitamin A to poison you.

Q: What foods build strong red blood?

A: The Basic Four: (1) At least one pint milk daily (protein and vitamin B-12); (2) Two servings meat, fish, poultry or eggs (iron, vitamin B-12 and folic acid); (3) Four servings fruits and vegetables, including one citrus (vitamin C) and one green leafy (folic acid); (4) Four servings whole wheat or enriched bread or cereal (iron and protein).

Q: Can cutting out salt prevent baldness?

A: No! Less salt is supposed to have slowed fallout temporarily. But high blood pressure victims eat little salt, and thousands grow bald. It's shining testimony that a salt-poor diet shrinks little more than a swelled head!

Tito Is Ungrateful

By George Sokolsky

It must be accepted from now on that Tito, the dictator of Yugoslavia, who has taken more than a billion of our dollars, is an ungrateful cur, as they used to say in the dime novels. He is a plain bum who takes and bites the hand that gives him the hand-out.

He is now at peace with Soviet Russia, having to all intents and purposes entered the Soviet Universal State. At the next Communist Party Congress in the Kremlin, it is to be expected that Tito, wearing all his medals, decorated like a masquerader, will stand on the right of Khrushchev, and enemy of the United States. He will take Chou En-lai's place, now that the Chinese Reds have become Albanians.

Those who continue to believe that the Russians are not making political progress do not quite grasp what Khrushchev's objectives are and how he affects other Soviet nations.

Tito is and has always been a Communist. It has paid him to adopt the attitude of being a National Communist; that is, one who believes in the general principles of Marxism-Leninism but who also holds that this system can be adapted to each country's history and traditions and that it is not necessary to establish a Soviet Universal State.

Holding this view, he formed a separate alliance with Nehru and Nasser and established the doctrine of neutralism which resulted in the Bandung Conference (1955) and which today influences the position of most Asiatic and African countries. Tito, of course, was not present at Bandung but his influence was there.

Assuming that half a loaf is better than none at all, it was State Department policy during the Eisenhower Administration and it is policy now, but less so, to regard the neutral countries as worthy of our economic and military assistance. As a result of his neutralistic gambit, Tito got more than a billion dollars from us.

But he has now come out into the open. He is not only a Communist but he is an ally of Khrushchev. It would not at all be astonishing if Tito uses his new relationship to go after Albania, a little Communist country that lies adjacent to his but which is presently more allied to Red China than to Soviet Russia.

This must be understood about the Communist Revolution: it presents several facades. One is the fundamental, ideological Marxist-Leninist position on all phases of life and thought. This possesses the quality of religious ritualism and obedience. This side of Communism is the same with all Communists and there can be no distinction among them.

However, as this movement operates, it breaks into four groups, the Orthodox Marxists who are represented by the Chinese-Albanian group; the Right deviationists who used to be represented by Tito; the Orthodox Leninists represented by Khrushchev; the Stalinists of whom Molotov is the leader. The Stalinists and the Chinese-Albanian group tend to coalesce. Tito has now joined Khrushchev.

The inner politics of the Soviet

Universal State are in a constant state of flux. For instance, such satellites as Fidel Castro and Cheddi Jagan cannot be readily identified. They will go as the wind blows. Such naturals as Nehru and Nasser are frightened by the developments which must engulf them as they are helpless.

It is not sound to exaggerate the differences among these various groups and personalities: they are all opposed to democracy and capitalism. They all believe that the world — the entire world — must be conquered by Marxism-Leninism; that the mystical, monothestic religions have run their course, much as Christianity reduced the magnitude of Judaism and totally eliminated Manichaeism. They are uncompromising in their assumptions concerning dialectical materialism. They only differ as to the best mechanism for winning the battle and who is to be the chief.

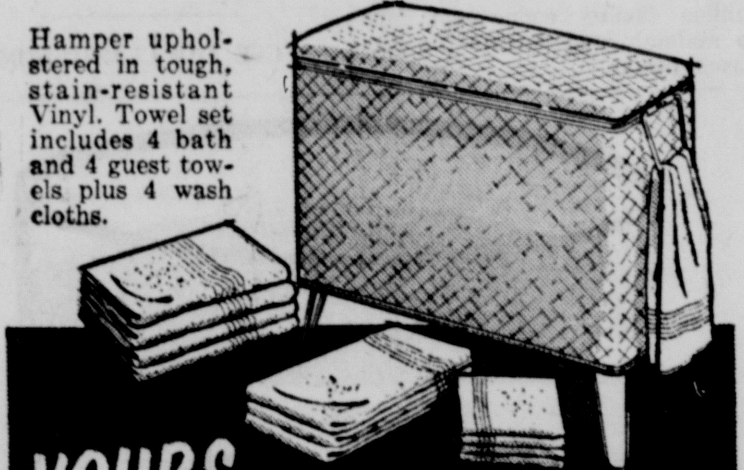

The error that Westerners make is that they believe that the Communists will destroy themselves by fighting each other, as, for instance, that Mao will go to war with Khrushchev. Suppose they do quarrel with each other; they will join each other under attack as we always join Great Britain and France when they are attacked. Those who put their trust in Mao destroying Khrushchev are whistling in the wind; they will join forces against us, as Tito signed up with Khrushchev. Both sides have ceremonial pictures of Marx and Lenin in their offices.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Today we celebrate "Law Day USA". We have cause for celebration because we are beneficiaries of the richest heritage of liberty under law in the history of civilized peoples.

By Presidential proclamation the nation has set aside a "day" to recognize the place of law in American life. The President in his proclamation said "law is the strongest link between man and freedom and justice in our own country and contribute by example to the goal of justice under law for all mankind."

In rededication of those principles we need to remind ourselves that we can remain free only so long as our people cherish freedom and understand its responsibilities. Equal justice under law is more than an abstraction. It is a way of life. We must practice it in our relations with each other, cultivate a high respect for it as a vital force in our society and foster a deep appreciation for the institutions which uphold it.

Law is the intangible force that makes freedom and progress possible. It is law that brings order into the affairs of men — that enables them to lift their sights above mere survival, to accumulate possessions, to develop the arts, to pursue knowledge, and to enjoy life among their fellow citizens.

Law gives to the individual security he could obtain in no other way; it protects the family; it permits the growth of great cities and the development of enterprises, large and small. It is the cement that holds our free society together.

Every court of law — representative of the vast judicial system of our nation and state — with the judge, attorneys, litigants, witnesses, and jurors sharing the profound responsibility of preserving, strengthening, and passing on to future generations our judicial system which unconditionally guarantees equal justice under law to even the most humble among us. This guarantee is a vital part of our heritage as American citizens.

While we commemorate Law Day, the communist world will celbrate May Day in sharply contrasting ways.

The Reds will flaunt their military might.

In quieter, less spectacular fashion they will pay tribute to the law for Law Day USA.

It would be hard to imagine a more striking example of the rule of men, on the one hand, and the rule of law on the other.

The basic difference between the rule of men and the rule of law is summed up in the word "liberty" and its handmaiden, "law." The two must go together, for, as has been remarked "Liberty with out law is license, and law without liberty is tyranny."

The Founding Fathers recognized this truth and wrote it into the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. We must also recognize and uphold the same truth. Without it, the American heritage will perish.

All societies, of course must have some rule of order. The most primitive tribes have laws of sorts. Even the communists have laws, but they become fetters in the absence of freedom for the individual. Our laws are drawn to enable us to live together in orderly peace and freedom.

A law is only as strong as the respect people have for it. That's why lawlessness, in whatever degree, menaces the whole fabric of our laws. A minor infraction, committed knowingly, is like the breaking of a tiny thread that could lead to a rip in the whole canopy of our protection.

To keep alive this ideal of equal justice in this day of dictators who have replaced law with force throughout much of the world, we need the same fervent love of liberty, dedication to ideal, respect for law and faith in divine guidance which inspired our pioneer forefathers to found this free nation as an example to liberty loving people everywhere.

Law Day — USA is a proper reminder of this precious heritage and that its continuance depends upon respect for law and order. Let us on this observance of Law Day, each in his own way, rededicate ourselves to that solemn task — to preserve and pass on to the citizens of tomorrow the heritage of liberty under law which is rightfully theirs.

In the advancement of the common cause — justice among men — we can recount the words of Daniel Webster over a century and a quarter ago:

"Justice is the great concern of man on earth. It is the ligament which holds civilized beings and civilized nations together. Wherever her temple stands, and so long as it is duly honored, there is a foundation for social security, general happiness and the improvement and progress of our race."

Oklahomans Voting Today In Primary

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Republicans and Democrats in Oklahoma will select nominees for governor, one U.S. Senate seat, Congress, the state legislature and state offices in primary elections today.

Henry Bellmon, a wheat farmer from Red Rock, is expected to win the Republican nomination for governor. Five major candidates seek the Democratic nomination.

Unless one candidate gets a majority, the two top vote getters in each race will meet in a runoff May 22.

Top contenders for the Democratic gubernatorial nominations are former Gov. Raymond Gary, Lt. Gov. George Night, State Sen. Fred Harris, W. P. Bill Atkinson of Midwest City and Preston Moore of Stillwater.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, a Democrat, cannot succeed himself under state law.

Sen. Mike Monroney is expected to win the Democratic nomination for a third term.

About 550,000 Oklahomians are expected to vote.

Ohio Oil Profits Hit Record High

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Total revenues for the Ohio Oil Co. climbed to a record high during the first quarter of 1962, but net income dropped below that of a similar period last year.

Revenues reached $94,791,000 for the first three months, but income was $8,186,000, compared with $10,493,000 the first quarter of 1961.

Earnings for the quarter amounted to 57 cents per share on 14,262,000 shares outstanding in 1962 and 75 cents on 13,927,414 shares in 1961.

Sohio Earnings Down by 12 Pct.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Earnings of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio (Sohio) were down 12 per cent in the first quarter this year compared with the same period last year.

President Charles E. Spahr told shareholders at the annual meeting today.

First-quarter income was $4,848,000, equal to 96 cents a share, compared with $5,518,000, equal to $1.10 a share, in the corresponding period last year.

He added this year's first-quarter sales exceeded those of the same period last year by 13 per cent.

Anderson, a native of Council Bluffs, Iowa, goes to his current assignment from Cincinnati where he had served as AEC deputy manager since 1957.

At Portsmouth he succeeds Robert H. Thalgott, a 14 year AEC veteran, who has been appointed assistant manager of operations for the commission's new Nevada office at Las Vegas.

Facts about Fallout —

Will Resumption of Tests Pollute World Atmosphere?

EDITOR'S NOTE—As the fallout from last fall's series of Soviet tests enters its sheaviest period of descent around the globe, the United States begins its response in the Pacific. Is this contest in nuclear development polluting the world's atmosphere, or are the hazards of testing often exaggerated? This is the first of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The controversy over radioactive fallout from nuclear tests is boiling again.

It finds many intelligent citizens confused and puzzled, especially over the disagreements among scientists.

A few say test fallout doesn't hurt humans at all.

Many experts say there possibly or probably are some effects but so small they can never be measured.

Another says the fallout from the new U.S. test series alone might cause 300,000 persons to die early. He quickly adds a vital qualification—that this would happen during the next 2,000 years.

Other scientists put the toll from cumulative fallout far higher.

Well, the citizen may ask, who's right? Why don't scientists agree? Don't they know?

Frankly, they don't know for sure.

They can only make highly educated guesses based on indirect evidence. The fallout controversy is highly colored with emotional, humanitarian, military and political considerations.

To some observers, it is a side issue to the real problem: How can the world avoid nuclear war? Does testing make war more or less likely?

The fallout issue cannot be neatly resolved like a mathematical equation to everyone's satisfaction.

For scientists aren't positive yet whether the radiation from fallout, admittedly small, really harms human heredity and health, or how little radiation it takes to do so.

The scientific uncertainty does not stem from lack of trying to find these answers.

Here at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, for instance, Dr. William L. Russell and associates have analyzed one million mice since 1950 for clues or principles concerning the effects low-level, chronic radiation might have on human heredity.

At any one time, Dr. Russell usually has 100,000 mice living in a grand mouse hotel, exposing some to radiation, then comparing them with other mice. It costs half a cent per week to feed each mouse. The total budget in these genetic studies runs about $500,000 a year.

This is but one of scores of experiments and studies here and abroad to assess human effects from radiation.

Human volunteers can't be used. Just one impracticality is that such experiments would take several 20-year generations or longer to detect any effects. Even then there could be doubts whether the effects truly came from fallout amounts of radiation, or from other causes.

But scientists do have some guideposts to help the citizen get some perspective in the fallout argument.

First, they are not talking about the very heavy, immediate kind of fallout which would come if bombs blew up cities. That rain of radiation could be quickly deadly, without shelter.

The concern is with tests which throw radioactive atoms high into the air, to settle down slowly. They disperse widely. Some last or stay hot for many years. They do get into people.

Secondly, human bodies have always been unavoidably a bit radioactive, since life began.

This is caused by natural or background radiation. It comes from radioactive carbon in the air and in food, and radioactive potassium in food. Atoms of uranium, thorium and radium in the ground, in rocks, in bricks and concrete buildings, are always shooting some radiation at you.

About 1,000 cosmic rays per minute strike the average human at sea level—and 2,000 per minute if you live at mile-high altitude.

All this natural radiation gives us, on the average, a dose of about 3 to 4 roentgens (units of radiation) in 30 years. That's equal to about 12 to 16 highly efficient chest X-rays.

Thirdly, all the radiation from fallout from all tests thus far has increased this exposure by about 5 per cent, on the average, most experts agree.

So—if fallout is doing anything to human inheritance, it is doing only a little more this way than the radiation which has always existed.

Crucial questions therefore involve the human effects produced by natural radiation, the added radiation from fallout, plus special effects, if any, from peculiar types of atoms in fallout.

Many scientists are working diligently to answer these points with better estimates than they now can make.

So—if fallout is doing anything to human inheritance, it is doing only a little more this way than the radiation which has always existed.

Crucial questions therefore involve the human effects produced by natural radiation, the added radiation from fallout, plus special effects, if any, from peculiar types of atoms in fallout.

Many scientists are working diligently to answer these points with better estimates than they now can make.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Because an informed person or group will act in their best interest, Blue Shield is publishing this announcement.

TO: ALL PEOPLE 65 OR OVER...

YOU CAN HAVE BLUE SHIELD MEDICAL-SURGICAL PROTECTION NOW!

- No Physical Examination
- You Make No Health Statement
- No Exclusion Because Of Present Or Past Health Problems
- No Waiting Periods For Existing Conditions
- You Need Not Be Employed

BLUE SHIELD MEDICAL-SURGICAL PROTECTION ENROLLMENT REOPENED FOR THE FIRST TIME IN TWO YEARS!

That's right, in answer to the thousands of requests, Blue Shield is offering this new improved contract that provides low cost — high benefit medical-surgical protection to any resident of Ohio, 65 or over.

BUT YOU MUST ENROLL BEFORE MIDNIGHT, SUNDAY, MAY 13TH!

LOOK AT ALL THE BENEFITS

Blue Shield will help you pay your surgeon's and physician's bill, relieving this anxiety when sickness strikes... and Blue Shield protects you when you travel outside of Ohio too!

BLUE SHIELD BENEFITS

Payments will be made for Surgery, In-hospital Medical Care, Anesthesia, Radiotherapy... according to the schedule of indemnities listed in the SENIOR PREFERRED Contract (M-10-L) you will receive. The benefits are available when the services are performed by a duly licensed physician or surgeon as defined in the contract.

Surgery

Almost all types of surgical procedures performed anywhere — in the hospital, home or physician's office — with payments from $10 to $300 according to schedule of indemnities.

Medical Treatment

When the member is a bed-patient in a hospital for more than 18 consecutive hours, for non-surgical illness. Payments for each hospital confinement, $10 for the first day and $5 for each of next three days, and $4 a day thereafter. Maximum of 70 days available per contract year.

These benefits are also provided for concurrent medical care by a physician other than the surgeon when the medical care is necessary and unrelated to the surgical service.

Fractures and Dislocations

Reduction (setting) performed anywhere.

Emergency Care

Emergency stitching of wounds within 24 hours after the accident.

Radiotherapy

Treatment by means of X-ray or radium, regardless of where the treatment is performed.

Burns and Skin Grafting

Treatment regardless of where the service is rendered.

Anesthesia Administration

For services rendered in connection with surgical procedures covered by the contract, payments from $10 to $40 according to schedule of indemnities when (1) administered by a physician other than the operating surgeon, in or out of the hospital, or (2) administered in a hospital by a dentist or nurse who is not an employee of the hospital. No payments will be provided for local anesthesia.

Services Not Covered

This contract does not provide payment for any of the following: services rendered in a V.A. hospital; workmen's compensation cases; services for cosmetic or beautifying purposes; dental services. No payment is provided for hospital bills or for services not described above.

Ask your Doctor... he will assure you of the complete reliability and worthwhile benefits of Blue Shield protection.

IN YOUR BEST INTEREST

Blue Shield is very much aware of the special Medical-Surgical needs of Ohio Citizens 65 or Over. This new, improved SENIOR PREFERRED Contract gives you low cost protection and peace of mind never before possible... BUT YOU MUST ACT NOW!

DEADLINE SUNDAY, MAY 13TH

Because of this definite enrollment deadline, you may never have the opportunity to take advantage of this offer again... each person must apply individually... use the coupon below... mail it before Sunday, May 13th, because applications cannot be accepted if postmarked after midnight of that date... applications will be accepted only by mail.

CHECK YOUR BLUE SHIELD CONTRACT

Are you one of more than a million Blue Shield Subscribers who have the PREFERRED or MAJOR Contract?

IF NOT... and you still have the original STANDARD Contract, you owe it to yourself and your family to read this important notice.

WHY THE PREFERRED AND MAJOR CONTRACTS ARE SO POPULAR

The Blue Shield STANDARD Contracts issued to individuals and group members in Ohio, were designed in the mid 1940's to help meet World War II surgical-medical expenses — many are still being carried. While the STANDARD Contract represents good value for the membership fees paid, more adequate protection geared to today's needs is now available. That's why over a million Blue Shield subscribers have taken advantage of the PREFERRED and MAJOR Contracts. These broader benefit contracts provide surgical, medical, anesthesia and radiotherapy benefits that better help meet these emergency expenses today.

LET'S MAKE COMPARISONS OF SOME BLUE SHIELD BENEFITS*

	STANDARD Plan Surgical	PREFERRED Plan Surgical	MAJOR Plan Surgical
Tonsillectomy (under age 12)	$ 25.00	$ 40.00	$ 65.00
Removal of Gall Bladder	125.00	175.00	250.00
Removal of Stomach	200.00	300.00	450.00
Removal of Lung	200.00	300.00	450.00

*Anesthesia Benefits considerably increase with each plan.

YOU CAN READILY SEE THE GREATER PROTECTION OF THE "PREFERRED" OR "MAJOR" COVERAGE FAR OUTWEIGHS THE SMALL ADDITIONAL PREMIUM.

GROUP CONTRACT	Cost per Month Single	Family
Standard	.80	2.45
PREFERRED	1.25	3.75
Major	1.65	4.90

The best protection you can have costs about 1/2 the price of a pack of regular cigarettes per day!

If you're single, Blue Shield medical-surgical protection amounts to only 41¢ per day for the "PREFERRED" Plan; less than 51¢ per day for the "MAJOR" Plan. For a typical family, the cost per individual averages even less — just pennies, really, for enjoying the peace-of-mind of knowing a larger portion of the surgical-medical expenses will be paid for by the "PREFERRED" or "MAJOR" Contract! You owe it to yourself and your loved ones to obtain the greatest Blue Shield protection you can get.

YOUR OWN FAMILY PHYSICIAN CAN REASSURE YOU OF THE COMPLETE RELIABILITY AND VALUE OF THESE CONTRACTS.

YOU MUST ACT!

To get this increased protection... to help you be better prepared to meet the health care cost of today... you must act. No salesman will call on you. No physical examination, no health statement required. No waiting periods or age limit restriction... it's up to you.

WHAT TO DO:

IF YOU ARE A GROUP LEADER OR EMPLOYER

If you are a group leader or employer, you may receive detailed information by mailing the coupon or telephoning your local Blue Cross-Blue Shield representative.

IF YOU ARE A BILLED AT HOME SUBSCRIBER

If you are not a member of a group, but have been paying your Blue Shield STANDARD Contract premiums direct, you will be receiving by mail, a special opportunity to up-grade.

IF YOU ARE A GROUP MEMBER

If you are a member of a group paying premiums on a salary deduction plan, you should (1) learn which plan your group has (2) talk it over with your group leader or employer (3) for more information about these better contracts, fill out and mail the coupon below.

High School Girl Graduates Feted by BPW at Reception

The annual girl graduate reception was held by the Business and Professional Women's Club at Atwater School with approximately 175 girl graduates and members in attendance.

The program opened with a welcome to the girls by Mrs. Geneva Ullman, club president. She then introduced Mrs. Etha Mae Wolford, general chairman.

Mrs. Wolford introduced Miss Connie Musselman who presented two solos — "Climb Every Mountain" and "With a Song in My Heart". Miss Musselman was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Charles Dinkler.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Roy Wipert of Washington C. H. She presented an enlightening, entertaining and stimulating talk. A pantomime was presented by Mrs. Dinkler.

This reception is an annual event of the local Business and Professional Women's Club. Schools represented were Circleville, Ashville, Darby, Deercreek, Perry, Jackson, Logan Elm, Scioto and Walnut.

The serving table was decorated with a centerpiece of white snapdragons and red roses. The theme of red roses was carried out in the napkins and the mints were hand made with red and white roses on them. Each girl was presented with a red rose. Presiding at the punch bowls was Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad, district director of District 10 and Mrs. Ullman. Names were drawn and five door prizes were awarded to the girls.

Committee chairmen were Mrs. Betty Barr, Miss Katherine L. Mead, Mrs. Emma Curlett, Mrs. Carolyn Young, Mrs. Eloise Starkley, Mrs. Mary Guenther, Miss Ruth Montelius and Miss Elma Rains.

Special thanks were extended by the club to the First National Bank, Second National Bank, Third National Bank, The Savings Bank, Scioto Building & Loan Co., Circleville, The Ashville Bank, Farmers National Bank, Williamsport, Scioto Bank, Commercial Point, Ullman's Flowers, Defenbaugh Funeral Home and Moore's Store for making this annual event a huge success.

Homemakers Spring Fair Is Conducted

The second Annual Homemakers Spring Fair, sponsored by the Pickaway County Home Council, was held at the 4-H and Grange Community Center.

Each homemaker received a miniature spring hat for her name tag. The hats were made out of nut cups, construction paper, fabric and assorted notions. The Duval Homemakers Group made the name tags. Mrs. Ray Jensen and Mrs. McKinley Ross were in charge of registration.

A carry-in luncheon was enjoyed by all. The tables for the luncheon were decorated with spring floral arrangements. These were provided by the Walnut Wise Workers. Mrs. Marlon Sanderson, Mrs. Donald Balthaser, Mrs. Wayne Hines, Mrs. William Plum, Mrs. Charles Sark, Mrs. Emerson Huffines, and Mrs. David Dill arranged the table decorations, and were in charge of arranging the food for serving. Mrs. Judson Beougher and Mrs. Donald Moss, from Salt-creek Group, were in charge of the coffee.

"Your Appearance" was the main topic on the program. Mrs. Mary Selleck, public relations accountant, and Miss Judy Potts, executive secretary and model of Noni Agency, Columbus, were the guest speakers.

Simplicity was stressed as the important thing in giving a good appearance. Miss Potts demonstrated the proper way to walk to sit, to get into and out of a car, to put on and take off a coat, and to walk up or down steps.

Miss Weta Mae Leist played two selections on her accordion — "Barbara Polka" and "Helena Polka". Mrs. Hannah Peters gave two humorous readings. One was "The Little House Out Back".

Mrs. Joe Vause, president of the County Home Council, announced the coming of the annual Homemakers Short Course to be held at Ohio State University on June 19, 20, and 21. Courses will be offered on various phases of home economics and related subjects. The short course is open to anyone.

The program closed on a sad note with the announcement of Mrs. Kileen Wright's resignation which will be effective June 15.

Sunday School Class Banquet Set May 14

Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church will hold an annual Mother-Daughter Banquet May 14. Members are urged to send their reservations to Mrs. Forrest Brown, 124 N. Scioto St., no later than May 10.

Inspection Slated

Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple 516 will hold their annual inspection and initiation 8 p. m. Thursday in the Lodge rooms.

Stylist Says Bleached Blonde Is Now No Longer in Vogue

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Due in large part to Oscar-winner Sophia Loren and husband-killer Elizabeth Taylor, the brunette is displacing the blonde as the world's sex symbol.

So says a Hollywood hair-style expert, who also credits Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy with aiding the rise of the brunette as the epitome of beauty.

"This triumvirate — Loren, Liz and Mrs. Kennedy — has had such an impact on the world's press that blondes cannot compete," commented Mr. Albert. "The spotlight used to be on Marilyn Monroe and Brigitte Bardot. Now the brunettes have taken over."

What does this momentous trend portend for American women?

A turn away from bleach bottles and back to darker, more natural shades of hair.

I'm taking Mr. Albert's word for this, and that's a lot of trust to put in a man with only one name.

ENGAGING CONVERSATION

Mrs. Gardner Freminger and actor Michael Rennie pose affectionately in New York after announcing their engagement. She is the former wife of producer Otto Preminger. Rennie, star of the "Third Man" TV series, flew from London for the announcement. It will be the second marriage for both.

Lutheran Circle Meet Is Wednesday

Circle No. 1 of the Trinity Lutheran Church will meet at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the parish house.

Personals

Mrs. Joseph Brooks and children Julie and Sally, Route 1, have returned from a weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Richard Crosthwait and family, Woodbury, N. J.

If you've inherited some old cookery utensils from Grand-mamma, get them out and use them. Pie crimpers and wheels, pie-dough scrapers, bread-stick and rosette pans still work well.

Dear Abby: Don't Do Either One!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman in college and, believe it or not, I have never kissed a girl. I mean really KISSED her. I have given girls little innocent pecks on the cheek, but that doesn't count. This may sound nuts but I have dated plenty of girls and, while everyone else is making out, we sit and talk. I spoke to a buddy of mine and he said, "Don't ASK a girl if you can kiss her. Just grab her and kiss her!" I would die of embarrassment if she pushed me away. Does a guy just grab a girl or does he ask first?

SHY GUY
DEAR SHY: A kiss should be more of a spontaneous act than a planned campaign. If you have to ASK a girl for permission, the whole thing would probably be a big let-down. Wait until you get the "message."

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his wife were married for three years. They divorced and stayed apart for almost a year. Then they were remarried to each other. If they had not been divorced, they would be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary this June. Would it be proper to entertain at an open house for their "25th anniversary" anyway, and ignore the time they were apart? Incidentally, a daughter was born to them before their divorce. MIDWEST

DEAR MIDWEST: Be generous and ignore the divorce.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was married two years ago, but it wasn't much of a wedding. She eloped with a schoolboy sweetheart. It lasted only a year and now she is getting married again.

We want to give her a large church wedding with a white gown and veil, but our friends say that we can't do it because of that first marriage she had. In view of the fact that she never had a "real" wedding, don't you think we should go ahead with our plans?

HER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Although your daughter never had a large church wedding, she did have a "real" marriage ceremony. Forego the veil and gown for a simple wedding.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "A-lone and in love" that if she is the woman who is in love with my husband, she'd better get used to being "alone" because there is not going to be a divorce in THIS family!

AWARD WIFE
For a personal reply to your problem, send Abby a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

So says a Hollywood hair-style expert, who also credits Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy with aiding the rise of the brunette as the epitome of beauty.

"This triumvirate — Loren, Liz and Mrs. Kennedy — has had such an impact on the world's press that blondes cannot compete," commented Mr. Albert. "The spotlight used to be on Marilyn Monroe and Brigitte Bardot. Now the brunettes have taken over."

What does this momentous trend portend for American women?

A turn away from bleach bottles and back to darker, more natural shades of hair.

I'm taking Mr. Albert's word for this, and that's a lot of trust to put in a man with only one name.

ENGAGING CONVERSATION

—Mrs. Gardner Preminger and actor Michael Rennie pose affectionately in New York after announcing their engagement. She is the former wife of producer Otto Preminger. Rennie, star of the "Third Man" TV series, flew from London for the announcement. It will be the second marriage for both.

Circle No. 1 of the Trinity Lutheran Church will meet at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the parish house.

Personals

Mrs. Joseph Brooks and children Julie and Sally, Route 1, have returned from a weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Richard Crosthwait and family, Woodbury, N. J.

If you've inherited some old cookery utensils from Grand-mamma, get them out and use them. Pie crimpers and wheels, pie-dough scrapers, bread-stick and rosette pans still work well.

He operates one of the poshier salons in Brentwood and his clients have included Connie Francis, Eva Marie Saint, Marisa Pavan, Cara Williams and Piper Laurie. His single name is symptomatic of the hair trade; out of the salon he also goes by Levin.

"Fashion trends go in cycles, and the blonde has had the best of it for many years," he expounded. "Notice that Marilyn Monroe's last two pictures didn't make money."

"Notice also that most of the Oscar contenders this year — Loren, Natalie Wood, Audrey Hepburn, Rita Moreno, etc. — were brunettes."

Because of the dark-haired lassies in the news, Mr. Albert argued, men are thinking in terms of brunettes. And if men are so doing, you can bet that women will do so as well.

"There has been a tendency for women to frost or tip their hair with blonde shades, rather than go all-out with a bleach," said the hair stylist. "That allows their hair to grow back to their normal shade, which in the case of most women is brunette. I think they will leave it that way — at least until blondes become the sex symbol again."

This movement will have definite effect on hair styles, he continued; hair will be longer.

Mr. Albert doubts if the Cleopatra look will catch on, despite all the forecasts in the ladies' magazines.

Derby Day Party Planned Saturday

The Derby Day Party will be held at the Pickaway Country Club at 3 p. m. Saturday. Free Derby Day punch will be served preceding the buffet dinner.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Do Either One!

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman in college and, believe it or not, I have never kissed a girl. I mean really KISSED her. I have given girls little innocent pecks on the cheek, but that doesn't count. This may sound nuts but I have dated plenty of girls and, while everyone else is making out, we sit and talk. I spoke to a buddy of mine and he said, "Don't ASK a girl if you can kiss her. Just grab her and kiss her!" I would die of embarrassment if she pushed me away. Does a guy just grab a girl or does he ask first?

SHY GUY
DEAR SHY: A kiss should be more of a spontaneous act than a planned campaign. If you have to ASK a girl for permission, the whole thing would probably be a big let-down. Wait until you get the "message."

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his wife were married for three years. They divorced and stayed apart for almost a year. Then they were remarried to each other. If they had not been divorced, they would be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary this June. Would it be proper to entertain at an open house for their "25th anniversary" anyway, and ignore the time they were apart? Incidentally, a daughter was born to them before their divorce.

MIDWEST
DEAR MIDWEST: Be generous and ignore the divorce.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was married two years ago, but it wasn't much of a wedding. She eloped with a schoolboy sweetheart. It lasted only a year and now she is getting married again.

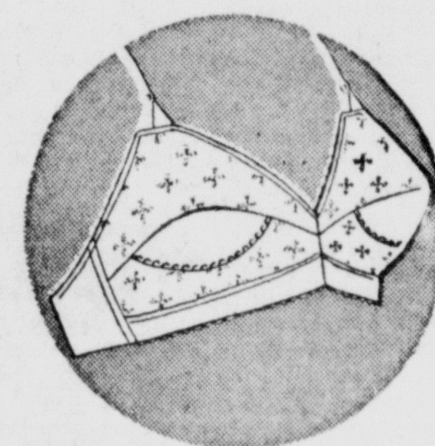

We want to give her a large church wedding with a white gown and veil, but our friends say that we can't do it because of that first marriage she had. In view of the fact that she never had a "real" wedding, don't you think we should go ahead with our plans?

HER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Although your daughter never had a large church wedding, she did have a "real" marriage ceremony. Forego the veil and gown for a simple wedding.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Alone and in love" that if she is the woman who is in love with my husband, she'd better get used to being "alone" because there is not going to be a divorce in THIS family!

Tribe Hurlers Offer Plenty Of HR Pitches

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland hurlers, who surrendered 178 home runs in 1961, are off to an even faster gopher ball pace this season.

Tribe hurlers have been tagged for 20 homers in 15 games, while the Indians' hitters have whacked only eight out of the park.

Last season the Indians' pitching staff was second to Los Angeles' 180 home runs for the dubious honor of giving up the most home runs.

Two grand slam homers have been hit against the Tribe.

Woodie Held and rookie Al Luplow each have hit two homers for Cleveland. One apiece have been belted by Gene Green, Ty Cline, Chuck Essegian and Willie Kirkland.

Gary Bell, the victim of five homers in one game, leads the staff in the gopher department with seven. Then comes Ron Taylor and Dick Donovan, four each, Barry Latman two, and one each for Bob Allen, Pedro Ramos and Frank Funk.

Still, despite the weakness of giving up home runs, the Indians have gotten away to a faster start this season than a year ago. After 15 games in 1961, Cleveland had a 7-8 record. Now they are 9-6 and in third place after a week's stay in first.

County Schools Slated for Tourney Action

Drawings for the class A Central District baseball tournament were held at Willard's Restaurant in Bexley last night.

Ashville, county tournament winners, will play Granville Monday. The Licking county crew has a record of four wins and five losses. They have competed in the central district tourney for nine consecutive years.

Darby and Monroe drew into the quarter final round of play. Darby will tangle with the winner of the Amanda - Dublin game, and Monroe plays the winner of the Liberty Union - Licking Heights tilt. Both teams are slated for Monday play and have been designated as the visiting nines.

Liberty Union won the state championship last year. The defending champs are undefeated so far this year, boasting a 5-0 record. In 1960 they were undefeated state champs.

The Darby Trojans stand a good chance of facing one of the best pitchers in the state, should Dublin win its contest with Amanda. Bob Bakenhester, the Dublin ace, lost his first game Saturday to Reynoldsburg, a class AA school. He has registered eight wins for the season.

Ninowski Enthused About Browns '11'

CLEVELAND (AP)—The owner of the Cleveland Browns is optimistic that quarterback Jim Ninowski will continue in pro football after straightening out his business affairs.

Art Modell met with Ninowski for two hours in Detroit Monday. Ninowski had expressed reluctance about joining the Browns after last month's three-for-three trade which sent quarterback Milt Plum to the Lions.

"There is one big reason I want to arrange things so I can come to Cleveland," Ninowski declared. "I want to play on a championship team. The Browns could have one next season."

Rathburn Hurls No-Hitter For Broncs, Faces Only 21

Tom Rathburn came within one batter of pitching a perfect no-hit game yesterday when the Ashville Broncs downed Madison South, 3-0.

Rathburn walked one man in the second inning — and then picked him off first. He faced only 21 men in the seven inning tilt. He struck out 14.

Gary Bainter aided Rathburn's cause by snagging a hard-hit grounder over second base and

Ankrom Entries Cop Four Firsts

Judy Ankrom earned four first place ribbons at two different horse shows in central Ohio during the weekend.

Judy won first place in the western saddle performance class 50 inches and under astride Rick-A-Sha at the Sunbury Riding Club Horse show at the Delaware County Fair Grounds Saturday.

She also rode Shadrack to first place in the 50 to 58-inch saddle performance class.

Sunday at the Miami Valley Rangers, Inc. Horse Show at Dayton, Judy won first place in the open pony parade class on The Sharpshooter. Returning to the ring astride Shadrack she copped a first in the western saddle performance class at the Dayton Show.

Chicago Studied For Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Chicago appeared today to have the inside track on the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston bout for the world heavyweight championship.

"It figures to be the best place," said Patterson. "It's a good fight town and can draw, but I'll wait to hear what the other cities have to offer before I make up my mind."

New York and Philadelphia both are out. New York refused challenger Liston a license because of his brushes with the law. Patterson refuses to fight in Liston's home town, Philadelphia.

"They'll do anything in that town," he said.

DVL Track Meet Set for May 2

Ashville will compete in the Darby Valley League track meet scheduled for May 2 at Central State College in Xenia.

West Jefferson is the defending league champion.

The Sports Car Club of America defines a sports car thusly: "A land vehicle propelled by its own means, running on at least four wheels not in a line, which must always be in contact with the ground and of which at least two must effect the steering and at least two the propulsion."

Golden-Haired Miami Beauty Wants Only To Swim Oceans

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Margaret Revell is 24, has a figure like a Las Vegas showgirl, the kind of face they put on magazine covers—and all she wants to do is swim oceans.

"My only romance is the water," the golden-haired girl from Miami said today. "I know some people will be shocked to hear that, but it's true. I won't be happy until I break every long-distance women's swimming record in the book."

Miss Revell is in New York completing arrangements for a summer's bid at what she calls a water marathon "grand slam".

She leaves May 15 for Seville, Spain. First, she'll tackle the Straits of Gibraltar. Then she'll go to Turkey for shots at the Bosphorus Straits and the Dardanelles—tests of some 20 miles each.

"I think Florence Chadwick holds the record for these swims," Mary Margaret said. "My first aim is to beat the marks for all of these."

She will return home for a 75-mile swim from Port Huron, Mich., to Detroit in July and then, after a two-week rest, will take off for England where she will try to become the first woman to accomplish a round-trip, non-stop swim of the English Channel.

Mary Margaret, a blue-eyed Irish colleen, is the daughter of a Bakersfield, Calif., dentist, the oldest of five children, all of whom are outstanding swimmers and athletes.

She began swimming when she was 3, got the long-distance "bug" when she was still in high school but didn't do anything about it until she got out of a small California college. Her conquests include the 25-mile Catalina Channel in 11 hours, 50 minutes and the 16-mile Michigan Mackinac Straits in 7½ hours.

She proceeded to incorporate herself as "Mary Margaret Revell Enterprises, Inc."

"It's my business to make physical fitness your pleasure," her card says. She maintains offices in Detroit and Miami. She is her own company president, general manager and public relations agent.

"I'm a fanatic on physical fitness," she said. "I am up every day at 5 a.m. I swim at least four hours daily. I am careful about what I eat. I concentrate on fish and salads—never any meat or naughty things like eclairs or strawberry tarts. I don't smoke or drink."

"I like men. But if they take me out, they have to have me home by 9 p.m. I'm in training—and, as I said, water is my only love."

The Washington Senators started the 1962 American League season with 15 new players.

Jim Brown Effective As Par Golfer, Too

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns' fullback and National Football League rushing champion for five straight years, started playing golf three years ago.

He went around the Highland golf course Monday for 18 holes and wound up with a par 72.

Circleville Angler Lands 3½ Pound Pike

Paul Morgan, 148 Town St., landed a 3½ pound pike in Deer Creek Sunday. He was using minnows for bait.

It was the first fish of this type caught in this area for the season.

Can you spot "Mr. Million"?

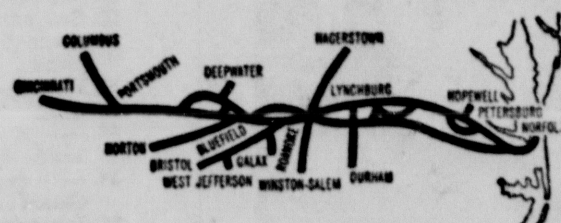

Put Your Best Foot Forward!

Of course you can't. "Mr. Million" . . . the man considering your town as a possible site for a million-dollar plant . . . looks just like a casual passerby. But in his quiet, friendly way he is asking questions, checking your community for physical evidence of progress, its civic pride, its "go" spirit. What he sees, what he hears, will largely determine whether that new plant comes to your town . . . or goes elsewhere.

A vigorous, dedicated effort to make your community more attractive to industry can pay off in new jobs, new progress, new prosperity . . . in greater opportunity for you and your children. So if your town is actively seeking new plants, the time to revitalize community spirit . . . to spruce up . . . to create the right business climate — is right now! Because "Mr. Million" may be appraising your town tomorrow!

Maris Doubts He Is in Any Kind of Slump

CHICAGO (AP) — Although homer king Roger Maris was batting a puny .152 before the recent four-game series at Washington, neither the New York Yankee slugger nor his manager, Ralph Houk, felt Maris was in any type of slump.

If anything, the man who hit 61 home runs last year appeared ready to take apart Chicago White Sox pitching again. Maris last year slammed 13 of his home runs against the Sox and the Yankees open a three-game series with the White Sox tonight.

"I never considered being in a slump," said Maris, who lifted his average to .262 with 10 hits including three homers against Washington over the weekend.

"I was hitting the ball well but always at somebody," he said. "Baseball is a game of percentages and eventually, when you're hitting the ball well it will start dropping in."

Maris, who has four home runs in 15 games, is well ahead of his 1961 pace. Last year he didn't hit No. 2 until the 16th game.

"I never even thought of his being in any kind of slump until the question was brought up," said Houk. "The big reason probably is that the Maris of this year is so much better a player than the Maris of last spring. Last year at this time he was struggling when popping up."

Maris agreed. "If anything, last spring was probably the worst of my career. I didn't think I would ever get started."

Indians Join In Clobbering Of Redlegs

NEW YORK (AP)—Those who are worried about the National League champion Cincinnati Reds plunging further in a slump might stretch their memories a little back to last year.

On May Day 1961, the usually-slow starting Reds were well back in eighth place in the National League with a 6-11 mark. But the first of May marked start of a nine-game winning streak that helped lift the Reds to the pennant.

The Reds moved into May this year still in eighth place with an 8-11 record and another flock of sputtering contests behind them. Whether they can straighten out again seems the key.

The Cleveland Indians were no help Monday night. They pounded out an 8-6 exhibition victory over the Reds with help of a four-run eighth inning. It was the same old lack of hitting that predominated in the Reds downfall.

Vada Pinson banged a homer in the first inning and Hank Foiles did the same in the fourth. In between the Reds put together four markers on five other hits.

But after the fourth inning the Reds were virtually powerless at the plate.

The Reds arrived in New York today for a series with the Mets. Joey Jay was to start on the mound for Cincinnati, opposing former teammate Jay Hook.

Syracuse Finally Wins Tilt in IL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syracuse finally has its first victory of the International League season in the bank — but it took 10 innings and a productive batting spree by Tony Asaro to put it away.

The Chiefs ended their six-game losing string with an 8-6 squeaker over Atlanta as Asaro ripped out five hits, including a decisive two-run double in the 10th. In other games, Rochester nipped Jacksonville 4-3 and Toronto beat Richmond 7-4. Buffalo at Columbus was rained out.

Asaro, whose 5-for-6 night zoomed his average from .200 to .346, climaxed Syracuse's rally of four straight hits off veteran right-hander Willard Schmidt in the 10th.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Under the television code and general practice, the sponsors' commercials are strictly limited in time and quantity. Apparently, however, no one controls those other, incidental commercials—the ones called plugs—which are mixed into game shows, panel shows, variety shows and, most of all, interview shows with a lavish hand.

California-originated editions of NBC's "Tonight" were prime examples of the dreary practice. Almost all of those big-name guests who dropped into the program were given all the time they wanted to sell their latest movie, advertise upcoming night club engagements, hold up the covers of their latest record albums and so on.

On the panel shows, it has become almost routine to introduce the "celebrity guests" by reciting their recent activities which usually are implicit invitations to the public to buy something—tickets, books or records. The built-in plugs of the audience participation programs are those of the manufacturers who provide the gift merchandise—the cameras, perfume, washer-driers.

None of these interludes constitute entertainment by any stretch of the imagination. While, as somebody once remarked, watching the sponsor commercials is the grim penalty one must pay for the free amusement or enlightenment that surrounds them, it would seem only fair to include all those extra plugs the guests throw in, in the commercial time allowance.

Television might have a hard time booking big-name expensive guests and making arrangements for fabulous prizes if it cut out the plugs. Exploiting a film or an album is usually the only purpose of a celebrity's appearance.

There's good news from CBS today. "Oh, Those Bells," the alleged comedy series which was a mid-season replacement (and which made the failing series) is pulled out of the network schedules in June. Replacement will be a summer series of "Accent" programs.

"Accent" is a high-level, intelligent series which has hitherto been seen in impossible time periods: at first, around noon on Saturdays and more recently early Sunday afternoons.

NBC has lined up an hour-long discussion show — live—between Astronaut John H. Glenn and Cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov (and two interpreters) for Sunday May 6, when the two will exchange views and ideas.

Recommended tonight: Dick Powell Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—"Savage Sunday," with Nick Adams; Garry Moore Show, CBS, 10-11—Carol Burnett and Julie Andrews, teamed again.

Lulu of Slice Returns To Hit Golfer in Face

ST. PAUL (AP)—St. Paul golfer Stanley Moucha got off a lulu of a slice Monday at Phalen golf course.

Moucha's drive hit a tree, caromed right back and struck him in the face. He was taken to a hospital and treated for a face bone fracture.

Willie Mays Finds Range, Boosts Giants

Sluggish Joins Cepeda In Home Run Column To Topple Pittsburgh

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Slump-ridden Willie Mays has kicked the habit and reformed the National League's No. 1 power combine with Orlando Cepeda for the streaking San Francisco Giants, back on top of the league standings after their sixth consecutive victory.

Both Mays and Cepeda continued their slugging Monday, each tagging a homer to support the fourth pitching of rookie Gaylord Perry as the Giants knocked off Pittsburgh 4-1 and topped the Pirates from first place.

Over that span Mays and Cepeda have reactivated the potent 1-2 punch that gave the Giants 86 homers and 265 runs batted in during the 1961 campaign. Mays now has seven homers, tops in the majors, plus 15 RBI, while Cepeda has hit six homers and knocked in 21 runs.

While the Giants were extending their streak, Philadelphia snapped one, beating Milwaukee's Warren Spahn 6-4 for their first victory over the veteran left-hander since May 23, 1959. In the only other game scheduled, Stan Williams' five-hitter gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 3-1 triumph over Chicago's Cubs.

The American League had a day off.

Mays got the Giants started with a bases-empty homer in the first inning off Vinegar Bend Mizell (1-1). But the Pirates came back to tie it in the second when Don Hoak singled, stole second and came across on Bill Mazeroski's single. San Francisco went back out front in the third when Tom Haller walked, took second on Perry's sacrifice and scored on Mickey Mota's single. Cepeda's two-run homer, after Mays had walked in the fourth, put it out of reach.

Perry (2-0), whose brother Jim pitches for Cleveland, was knocked out in his first major league start, then beat the Pirates to start the Giants' current streak.

Spahn (2-3), trying for the 312th victory of his career, was knocked out in the third when the Phils scored five times on Ruben Amaro's double, singles by Tony Taylor and Tony Gonzalez, plus three walks, including a bases-filled one to Don Demeter. Rookie Jack Hamilton (2-2) won it, with relief help from Jack Baldschur in the ninth.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the fifth to win it, snapping a 21-inning scoreless string when an error by Andre Rodgers let Norm Sherry score and Jim Gilliams' single drove in Maury Wills. Andy Carey's homer in the sixth gave Williams (1-1) some additional working room.

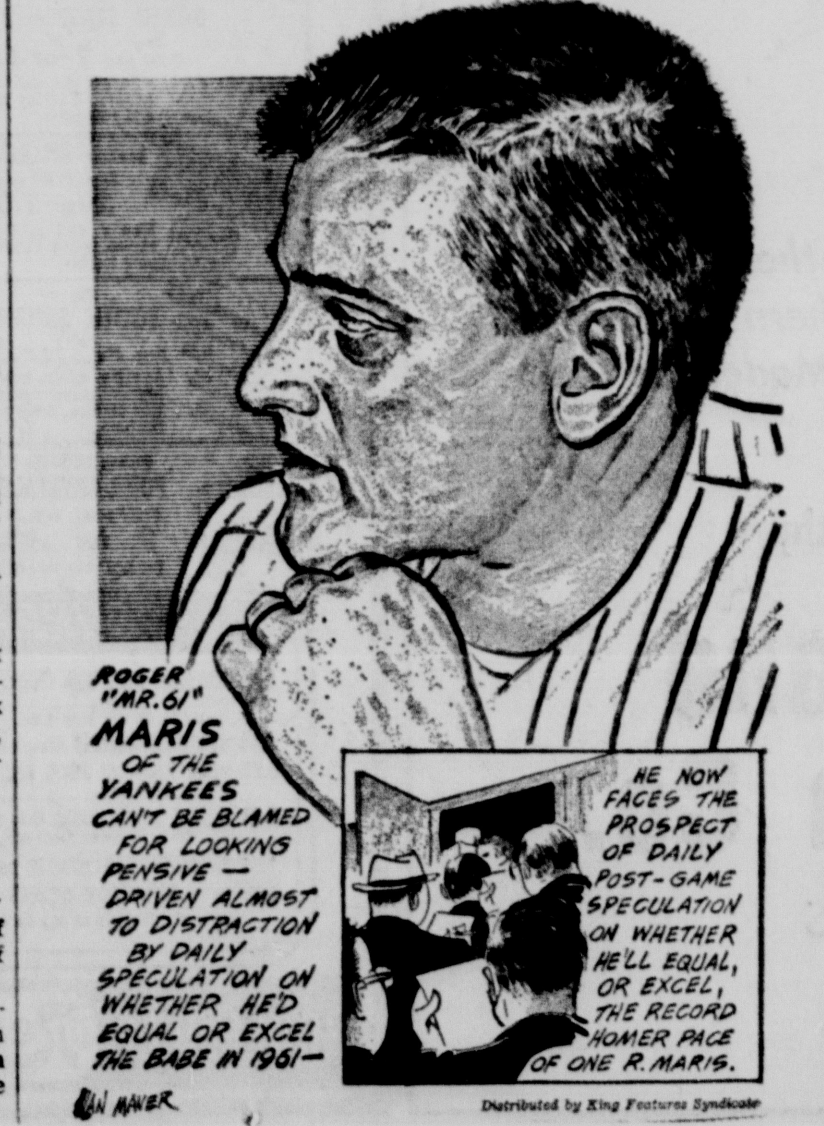

Wright Is Winner Of Titleholders

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Blonde Mickey Wright shot what she described as "the best competitive round of my career"—a three-under-par 69—to win top money of $1,400 in the 23rd women's Titleholders Golf Tournament.

Miss Wright had six birdies in her remarkable round under pressure Monday as she defeated Ruth Jensen of Seattle in the first playoff ever necessary in this event. Miss Jensen shot a respectable 37-35—72, matching men's par of 36-36—72 over the Augusta Country Club Course. She won $1,100.

The two West Coast entries—Miss Wright is from San Diego—wound up even at 295 at the end of the 72-hole event Sunday.

Communists Capitalize On May Day

The East German army parade in East Berlin for the first time included rockets. The Communist announcer said they were the same type that shot down Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane and that they were now regular equipment of the East German army.

Tanks, heavy guns, armored cars and goose-stepping soldiers paraded across East Berlin's Marx-Engels Platz for half an hour. The Western allies were expected to protest as usual that the parade violated occupation agreements against German military activity in Berlin.

The parade was reviewed by Walter Ulbricht, the East German chief of state who has just returned from a long cure in Czechoslovakia. With him was long-ailing Premier Otto Grotewohl, making a rare public appearance.

Both Communist and Western authorities in Berlin took steps to head off trouble along the Red wall dividing the city as crowds massed for rival demonstrations.

West Berlin police laid down about a mile of barbed wire to hold back Western crowds from the wall. Police headquarters sent 3,500 men to the scene of a Western demonstration near the Red barrier.

On the eastern side 90 truck-loads of men and equipment were reported mobilized at the House of Ministries between the sites of the two demonstrations. East Berlin police regularly keep the East Germans at least 100 yards back from the wall.

Heading the speakers' list in the Western rally were West German President Heinrich Lübke and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal envoy in Berlin making his last public appearance before leaving his post.

An estimated 200,000 Japanese massed in Tokyo's Meiji Park for a demonstration that put far less stress on anti-Americanism than in previous years. Under the eyes of 16,000 police, celebrants sang, shouted slogans and heard speeches by Communist and Socialist leaders and labor union chiefs.

Police said about 1.5 million persons took part in demonstrations in other Japanese cities.

Communist China ushered in May Day Monday night with a reception in Peking attended by Premier Chou En-lai, other officials and foreign diplomats.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi, who played host, delivered a speech declaring that unity in the Communist camp was "unbreakable."

Despite Chen Yi's lip service to communist unity, the Communist New China News Agency's report of the traditional portrait display at Peking's Gate of Heavenly Peace made no mention of Khrushchev. Stalin's picture was there, however, along with those of Mao Tse-tung, Marx, Engels and Lenin.

Cuba's May Day observance centered around a speech by Fidel Castro. Cubans were warned not to try to walk out while the prime minister harangued the rally in Havana's Jose Marti Plaza.

In 1908 Mt. Rainier National Park was the first national park to admit automobiles. Before that, visitors had to arrive by railroad, stage coach, horseback or afoot.

JOHN B. MCCLINTOCK

Speaker Slated For BSA Meet At St. Joseph's

John B. McClintock of Nationwide Insurance will be guest speaker at the Pickaway Scouters Annual District Meeting, it was announced today by H. W. Diehl, district chairman of Pickaway County.

The dinner meeting, in the form of a Smorgasbord, will be held at Saint Joseph Catholic Church 6:30 p. m. Thursday. All scouters and friends of scouting are urged to attend.

McClintock has been in the casualty insurance business for the past 23 years. With Nationwide he has occupied several positions, including those as chief accountant for the auto company and chief accountant for the life company and regional manager for two years.

His present position is director of administration operations in the home office. He is also vice president and general manager of Nationwide premium accounts.

Real 'John Doe' Joins Marines

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Some first sergeant is going to go right over the top of the desk."

That was the answer given today when a Marine recruiting sergeant was asked what he expected the reaction would be when a recruit, sworn in here, is asked his name in boot camp.

The recruit's reply will be: "John Doe, sir."

That's right — John Doe, 18, of Columbus was sworn into the Marines today by Col. Ronald R. Van Stockum, director of the Fourth Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District.

The recruiting office said that as far as can be determined the Columbus youth is the first John Doe ever to enter the Corps.

Kindergarten Program Here Is Revised

The kindergarten program in Circleville Schools has been revised to meet the modern educational challenge of today, school administrators announced today.

Children entering kindergarten must be 5-years-old on or before August 31, and must present a birth certificate to be admitted.

Several goals of Kindergarten are: to develop desirable attitudes for learning, to provide growth in reasoning and to prepare for entrance in the first grade.

Kindergarten promotes social, emotional, physical, and mental development of the child.

Kindergarten teachers in Circleville are: Mrs. Floreen Heeter, Walnut; Mrs. Rosemary Hughes, and Mrs. Jean Kelly, Franklin; and Mrs. Ruth Schneider, Atwater.

Ag Students At CHS Enjoy Trip to OSU

An extensive tour of facilities highlighted a trip by the agricultural classes of Circleville High School to the Ohio State University Farm and related laboratories.

The tour included a visit to the new animal science building, beef barn, swine barn and the farm's dairy setup. In the afternoon the group adjourned to the soil testing and food technology laboratories.

The CHS students were accompanied by Kester McCain, their teacher. Robert Worrall, assistant to the dean of the OSU College of Agriculture, planned the trip.

Willard Congrove, Richard Hedges, Charles Leist, Franklin Mace, Fred Moore, Robert Sadler, Lowell Williams, Robert Anderson, Gary Brown, Roy Carter, Harold Davis, John Harter, James McCole, Kelly Neal, George Reeser, George Roth, Curtis Vance and George Wolfe.

The present court term probably will run through June. There is no fixed date for the term to end. The justices decide in the light of the court's docket when to bring the term to a close.

Local Student Named Chairman Of OU Event

ALICE DAWSON

Alice Dawson, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor S. Dawson, 226 Walnut St., has been named the Women's Skits Chairman of Ohio University's 1962 Junior Prom.

The Prom, May 17-19, is the biggest social event of the year at OU. The three-day event includes: skits, presented by the men and women's housing units; a pre-prom concert, displaying the talents of the top eight king and queen finalists in competition; and a big dance with a well-known band or orchestra, highlighted by the crowning of the J-Prom King and Queen.

Miss Dawson, a 1959 graduate of Circleville High School, is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, Student Cabinet Calendar Chairman, Freshman Dormitory Chairman, "Rush" counselor and Sophomore Class council.

Majoring in English and secondary education, she will be graduated with the Class of 1963.

Extradition Fight Slated For Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Eighth District Court of Appeals Monday granted a 10-day delay in the extradition of Mrs. Willie Mae Mallory to Monroe, N. C., for trial on a kidnapping charge so her case can be appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Walter S. Haffner, attorney for the 34-year-old Negro, filed a motion for a stay of execution with the appellate court last Thursday a few hours after it had handed down a decision affirming a common pleas ruling that ordered Mrs. Mallory extradited.

Haffner said he probably would file an appeal with Ohio's highest court late this week or early next week. He has said he would carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court, if necessary.

A grand jury at Monroe indicted Mrs. Mallory on a charge of kidnapping Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stegall, a white couple, and holding them hostage during a racial disturbance last Aug. 27.

Robert Williams, a former official of the Monroe Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, also was indicted in the alleged kidnapping. He fled to Cuba.

Mrs. Mallory, of Brooklyn, N.Y., contends the Stegalls were taken into Williams' home to protect them from possible mob violence during the disturbance.

She was arrested on a fugitive warrant here last Oct. 12. Her extradition was ordered Feb. 7 by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Communists Capitalize On May Day

The East German army parade in East Berlin for the first time included rockets. The Communist announcer said they were the same type that shot down Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane and that they were now regular equipment of the East German army.

Tanks, heavy guns, armored cars and goose-stepping soldiers paraded across East Berlin's Marx-Engels Platz for half an hour. The Western allies were expected to protest as usual that the parade violated occupation agreements against German military activity in Berlin.

The parade was reviewed by Walter Ulbricht, the East German chief of state who has just returned from a long cure in Czechoslovakia. With him was long-ailing Premier Otto Grotewohl, making a rare public appearance.

Both Communist and Western authorities in Berlin took steps to head off trouble along the Red wall dividing the city as crowds massed for rival demonstrations.

West Berlin police laid down about a mile of barbed wire to hold back Western crowds from the wall. Police headquarters sent 3,500 men to the scene of a Western demonstration near the Red barrier.

On the eastern side 90 truckloads of men and equipment were reported mobilized at the House of Ministries between the sites of the two demonstrations. East Berlin police regularly keep the East Germans at least 100 yards back from the wall.

Heading the speakers' list in the Western rally were West German President Heinrich Lübke and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal envoy in Berlin making his last big public appearance before leaving his post.

An estimated 200,000 Japanese massed in Tokyo's Meiji Park for a demonstration that put far less stress on anti-Americanism than in previous years. Under the eyes of 16,000 police, celebrants sang, shouted slogans and heard speeches by Communist and Socialist leaders and labor union chiefs.

Police said about 1.5 million persons took part in demonstrations in other Japanese cities.

Communist China ushered in May Day Monday night with a reception in Peiping attended by Premier Chou En-lai, other officials and foreign diplomats.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi, who played host, delivered a speech declaring that unity in the Communist camp was "unbreakable."

Despite Chen Yi's lip service to communism unity, the Communist New China News Agency's report of the traditional portrait display at Peiping's Gate of Heavenly Peace made no mention of Khrushchev. Stalin's picture was there, however, along with those of Mao Tse-tung, Marx, Engels and Lenin.

Cuba's May Day observance centered around a speech by Fidel Castro. Cubans were warned not to try to walk out while the prime minister harangued the rally in Havana's Jose Marti Plaza.

In 1908 Mt. Rainier National Park was the first national park to admit automobiles. Before that, visitors had to arrive by railroad, stage coach, horseback or afoot.

JOHN B. MCCLINTOCK

Speaker Slated For BSA Meet At St. Joseph's

John B. McClintock of Nationwide Insurance will be guest speaker at the Pickaway Scouters Annual District Meeting, it was announced today by H. W. Diehl, district chairman of Pickaway County.

The dinner meeting, in the form of a Smorgasbord, will be held at Saint Joseph Catholic Church 6:30 p. m. Thursday. All scouters and friends of scouting are urged to attend.

McClintock has been in the casualty insurance business for the past 23 years. With Nationwide he has occupied several positions, including those as chief accountant for the auto company and chief accountant for the life company and regional manager for two years.

His present position is director of administration operations in the home office. He is also vice president and general manager of Nationwide premium accounts.

Real 'John Doe' Joins Marines

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Some real sergeant is going to go right over the top of the desk."

That was the answer given today when a Marine recruiting sergeant was asked what he expected the reaction would be when a recruit, sworn in here, is asked his name in boot camp.

The recruit's reply will be: "John Doe, sir."

That's right — John Doe, 18, of Columbus was sworn into the Marines today by Col. Ronald R. Van Stockum, director of the Fourth Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District.

The recruiting office said that as far as can be determined the Columbus youth is the first John Doe ever to enter the Corps.

Kindergarten Program Here Is Revised

The kindergarten program in Circleville Schools has been revised to meet the modern educational challenge of today, school administrators announced today. Children entering kindergarten must be 5-years-old on or before August 31, and must present a birth certificate to be admitted.

Several goals of kindergarten are: to develop desirable attitudes for learning, to provide growth in reasoning and to prepare for entrance in the first grade.

Kindergarten promotes social, emotional, physical, and mental development of the child.

Kindergarten teachers in Circleville are: Mrs. Florene Heeter, Walnut; Mrs. Rosemary Hughes, and Mrs. Jean Kelly, Franklin; and Mrs. Ruth Schneider, Atwater.

Ag Students At CHS Enjoy Trip to OSU

An extensive tour of facilities highlighted a trip by the agricultural classes of Circleville High School to the Ohio State University Farm and related laboratories.

The tour included a visit to the new animal science building, beef barn, swine barn and the farm's dairy setup. In the afternoon the group adjourned to the soil testing and food technology laboratories.

The CHS students were accompanied by Kester McCain, their teacher, Robert Worrall, assistant to the dean of the OSU College of Agriculture, planned the trip.

Willard Congrove, Richard Hedges, Charles Leist, Franklin Mace, Fred Moore, Robert Sadler, Lowell Williams, Robert Anderson, Gary Brown, Roy Carter, Harold Davis, John Harter, James McCole, Kelly Neal, George Reeser, George Roth, Curtis Vance and George Wolfe.

The present court term probably will run through June. There is no fixed date for the term to end. The justices decide in the light of the court's docket when to bring the term to a close.

Local Student Named Chairman Of OU Event

ALICE DAWSON

Alice Dawson, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor S. Dawson, 226 Walnut St., has been named the Women's Skits Chairman of Ohio University's 1962 Junior Prom.

The Prom, May 17-19, is the biggest social event of the year at OU. The three-day event includes: skits, presented by the men and women's housing units; a pre-prom concert, displaying the talents of the top eight king and queen finalists in competition; a big dance with a well-known band or orchestra, highlighted by the crowning of the J-Prom King and Queen.

Miss Dawson, a 1959 graduate of Circleville High School, is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, Student Cabinet Calendar Chairman, Freshman Dormitory Chairman, "Rush" counselor and Sophomore Class council.

Majoring in English and secondary education, she will be graduated with the Class of 1963.

Extradition Fight Slated For Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Eighth District Court of Appeals Monday granted a 10-day delay in the extradition of Mrs. Willie Mae Mallory to Monroe, N. C., for trial on a kidnapping charge so her case can be appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Walter S. Haffner, attorney for the 34-year-old Negro, filed a motion for a stay of execution with the appellate court last Thursday a few hours after it had handed down a decision affirming a common pleas ruling that ordered Mrs. Mallory extradited.

Haffner said he probably would file an appeal with Ohio's highest court late this week or early next week. He has said he would carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court, if necessary.

A grand jury at Monroe indicted Mrs. Mallory on a charge of kidnapping Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stegall, a white couple, and holding them hostage during a racial disturbance last Aug. 27.

Robert Williams, a former official of the Monroe Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, also was indicted in the alleged kidnapping. He fled to Cuba.

Mrs. Mallory, of Brooklyn, N. Y., contends the Stegalls were taken into Williams' home to protect them from possible mob violence during the disturbance.

She was arrested on a fugitive warrant here last Oct. 12. Her extradition was ordered Feb. 7 by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

PIPES CLOGGED

By Your Hard Water?

Hard water is doing this to your pipes now, this very minute. Used to mean you'd have to pay a big plumbing bill. Not any more — if you act now and get the new Lindsay.

New Lindsay automatic water softener quickly washes hard water scale out of your pipes — and keeps it out! What a difference!

This is only one of the many, many advantages of soft water by LINDSAY. For more, complete information, Call GR 4-2697.
